

Employment, Technology and Economic Needs

Theory, Evidence, and Public Policy

Edited by Jonathan Michie

Professor of Management, Birkbeck College, University of London

and

Angelo Reati

Commission of the European Community, Brussels, Belgium

Edward Elgar

Cheltenham, UK • Northampton, MA, USA

Contents

List of figures	vii
List of tables	viii
List of contributors	ix
Preface and acknowledgements	xi
Introduction: Towards an alternative theory and policy on employment Jonathan Michie and Angelo Read	1
PART I    THE POLITICAL ECONOMY OF EMPLOYMENT AND UNEMPLOYMENT
1 Labour supply and unemployment Antonio G. Calafati	13
2 Demand- and supply-side approaches to economic policy Jonathan Michie and Christos Pitelis	42
3 Deindustrialization, unemployment and government policy: the UK experience Michael Kitson and Jonathan Michie	58
4 Institutions and employment performance in different growth regimes Eileen Appelbaum and Ronald Schettkat	67
PART II   THE ROLE OF TECHNOLOGY AND INNOVATION
5 The present technological change: growth and employment perspectives Angelo Reati	91
6 A micro-macro view of the causes of and remedies for unemployment in an integrating Europe Andrew Tylecote	115

7	Product versus process innovation: implications for employment Charles Edquist, Leif Hommen and Maureen McKelvey	128
8	Regional innovation strategies: can they combat regional unemployment? Sara Davies and Kevin Morgan	153
PART III THE WORLD OF WORK
9	The employment relationship in transition Eugenio Benedetti and Marco Rangone	169
10	Creating your own job: the behaviour of micro-business households in the risk society Jane Wheelock and Susan Baines	199
11	In search of employment creation via environmental valorization: towards an eco-Keynesian mode of regulation and a sustainable regime of accumulation for Europe Ray Hudson	229
12	Some alternative explanations of Irish unemployment Charles M.A. Clark and Catherine Kavanagh	251
PART IV A POLICY AGENDA
13	Employment as a human right Marc R. Tool	279
14	Full employment: past, present and future. An ILO perspective Werner Sengenberger	303
15	Reforming the labour market through guaranteed incomes: a US perspective Jeff Manza and Fred Block	317
16	The reduction of working time as a means of solving the unemployment problem Angelo Read	338
	Index	351