THE MANUSCRIPTS OF
ADAM FERGUSON

Edited by
VINCENZO MEROLLE

Contributing Editors
ROBIN DIX
EUGENE HEATH

LONDON
PICKERING & CHATTO
2006
CONTENTS

Preface vii
List of Abbreviations ix
Introductory Essay xi
Ferguson's Political Philosophy xi
Ferguson's Moral Philosophy xlvii
Ferguson's Aesthetics lxxvii
Bibliography lxxxvii

MANUSCRIPTS

I. Of Perfection and Happiness 3
II. What may be Affirmed or Apprehended of the Supreme Creative Being 13
III. Of History and its Appropriate Stile 19
IV. Of Statesmen and Warriours 33
V. An Excursion in the Highlands: Discourse on Various Subjects 47
VI. Of Happiness and Merit 71
VII. Distinction of Value and its Source in Existence 77
VIII. Of the Compar[ative] Forms of Being 91
IX. Reputed Pleasures of Imagination 97
X. Cognitum with the [ ] of Wisdom 103
XI. Of the Categories or Constituents of Discourse and Fabric of Thought 109
XII. Of the Distinctions which Mankind Experience or Apprehend in the Nature of Things to Direct them in what they Pursue or Avoid 115
XIII. Of Cause and Effect/ Ends and Means/ Order Combination and/ Design 121
XIV. Of the French Revolution with its Actual and Still Impending Consequences in Europe 133
XV. Of the Separation of Departments Professions and Tasks Resulting from the Progress of Arts in Society 143
XVI. Of the Freedom of Wit and Humour and their Value as a Test of Rectitude and Truth 153
XVII. Waking Dreams 159