

DESIRE AND EXCESS

THE NINETEENTH-CENTURY
CULTURE OF ART

JONAH SIEGEL

PRINCETON UNIVERSITY PRESS

PRINCETON AND OXFORD, ENGLAND

CONTENTS

LIST OF FIGURES	vii
ACKNOWLEDGMENTS	xi
PREFACE
The Apparent Permanence of the Museum as Against Its Actual Permanence: The Nineteenth-Century Culture of Art	xv
INTRODUCTION
The Museum as Mortuary	3
PART ONE: ART IN THE MUSEUM.- ARTIST AND FRAGMENT AT THE TURN OF THE NINETEENTH CENTURY
	15
CHAPTER ONE
David and Fuseli: The Artist in the Museum, the Museum in the Work of Art	17
David: The Oaths	18
Fuseli: Before Ruins	28
CHAPTER TWO
"Monuments of Pure Antiquity": The Challenge of the Object in Neoclassical Theory and Pedagogy	40
The Statue and the Penis	47
The Penis and the Statue	64
CHAPTER THREE
"United, Completer Knowledge": Barry, Blake, and the Search for the Artist	73
Alternative Origins	73
Joseph of Arimathea: Blake and the Work of Art	76
The Laocoon: Stupendous Originals	80
PART TWO-. THE AUTHOR AS WORK OF ART: ACCUMULATION, DISPLAY, AND DEATH IN LITERARY BIOGRAPHY
	91
CHAPTER FOUR
Hazlitt, Scott, Lockhart: Intimacy, Anonymity, and Excess	93
"That Which is Unseen The Life of Genius	93

Talking in a Tempest: Hazlitt on Contemporary Life	102
A Writing Hand: The Life of Scott	113
CHAPTER FIVE
Keats: In the Library, in the Museum	130
The Museum: Accommodating Art	133
"A Perfect Treasure House": The Museum of the Mind	150
PART THREE: ABSENCE AND EXCESS: THE PRESENCE OF THE OBJECT
	165
CHAPTER SIX
Outline, Collection, City: Hazlitt, Ruskin, and the Encounter with Art	167
"Asking for the Old Pictures": Hazlitt's Dream of the Louvre	168
Ruskin in the Presence of Art: Art, Treasure, Exhibition	180
Learned Outlines: Hazlitt and Ruskin on Flaxman	189
CHAPTER SEVEN
Vast Knowledge/Narrow Space: The Stones of Venice	197
Travel and Organization	197
The Natures of Gothic	209
PART FOUR: THE DEATHS OF THE CRITICS
	225
CHAPTER EIGHT
Modernity as Resurrection in Pater and Wilde	227
Filling in the Outline, or "What Is Really New"	227
"A Pomegranate Cut with a Knife of Ivory"	251
AFTERWORD
Las Meninas as Cover: Foucault, Velazquez, and the Reflection of the Museum	263
NOTES	279
ILLUSTRATION CREDITS	337
INDEX	339