I INTRODUCTION TO THE RESEARCH CHALLENGE	1
THE RESEARCH OBJECTIVES AND SCOPE OF THE STUDY	4
1 The objectives of the study	4
2 Additional research scope specifications	11
3 The research positioning and the methods to be followed	13
4 The research contributions	17
5 The outline of the study	20
II THE THEORETICAL PART	22
2. THEORETICAL BACKGROUND FOR THE CONNECTIONS BETWEEN THE FIRM'S STRATEGY AND ITS PERFORMANCE	22
2.1 Approaches to the Business Policy and Industrial Organisation Economics traditions	24
2.2 From industry examination to the strategic group analyses	29
2.2.1 The fundamental arguments of the strategic group discipline	29

2.2.3 Strategic group - a useful frame of reference	39
2.2.4 Summary of the relevant competitive environment context of the firm	41
2.3 Towards the Advanced Strategy-Performance model	42
2.3.1 The basic elements of the strategy-performance models	42
2.3.2 The frame of reference: A holistic strategy-performance model	47
2.3.3 Summary of the strategy-performance model perspectives	59
2.4 Conclusions: Towards the advanced strategy-performance perspectives	60
2.4.1 The research traditions to be followed	61
2.4.2 The improved strategy-performance model	66
2.4.3 The ASP-model in the competition context	71
III THE EMPIRICAL PART	73
3. THE FINNISH TELECOMMUNICATIONS INDUSTRY IN THE CHANGING COMPETITIVE ENVIRONMENT	73
4. RESEARCH DESIGN	83
4.1 Strategic group clustering specification in the FTC	83
4.2 Advanced strategy-performance model variable specifications in the FTC	84
4.3 Data gathering and information sources	98

5. THE EMPIRICAL RESULTS OF THE STUDY.....	107
5.1 Strategic groups among the Finnish telephone companies.....	107
5.2 Strategy and performance differences between strategic groups.....	108
5.2.1 Strategic groups' scope market potentiality.....	109
5.2.2 Resources for the synergy construction.....	121
5.2.3 The development of logistics.....	133
5.2.4 Marketing development.....	138
5.2.5 Internal process results.....	148
5.2.6 External process results.....	156
5.2.7 Economic performance in the strategic groups.....	169
5.2.8 Summary of the strategy-performance results in the strategic groups.....	173
5.3 The results of the principal component analyses in the strategic groups.....	176
5.3.1 Explanatory and performance components in National Group.....	176
5.3.2 Explanatory and performance components in the Helsinki Group.....	179
5.3.3 Explanatory and performance components in the Regional Group.....	182
5.3.4 Explanatory and performance components in the Local Group.....	185
5.3.5 Summary of the principal component analyses.....	187
5.4 The best and worst performers in the strategic groups.....	190
5.4.1 The best and the worst, performers in Regional Group.....	190
5.4.2 The best and worst performers in the Local Group.....	198
5.5 Conclusions: The strategies and the performance in the strategic groups.....	205
5.5.1 The National Group's strategy-performance model.....	206
5.5.2 The Helsinki Group's strategy-performance model.....	209
5.5.3 The Regional Group's strategy-performance model.....	213
5.5.4 The Local Group's strategy-performance model.....	216
5.5.5 Summary of the strategy-performance connection findings.....	220
IV DISCUSSION.....	225
6. IMPLICATIONS AND SUGGESTIONS FOR FUTURE RESEARCH.....	225
6.1 Theoretical implications supported by the empirical results in FTC.....	225
6.2 Implications for managerial practice.....	235
6.3 Suggestions for future research.....	237
