PART 1 The Basics 1

Chapter 1 Introduction 1

Marketing Engineering: From Mental Models to Decision Models 1
  Marketing and marketing management 1
  Marketing engineering 2
  Why marketing engineering? 5

Marketing Decision Models 6
  Definition 6
  Characteristics of decision models 7
  Verbal, graphical, and mathematical models 8
  Descriptive and normative decision models 11

Benefits of Using Decision Models 13

Philosophy and Structure of the Book 19
  Philosophy 19
  Objectives and structure of the book 21
  Design criteria for the software 22

Overview of the Software 23
  Software access options 23
  Running marketing engineering 24

Summary 25
Chapter 2  Tools for Marketing Engineering: Market Response Models  29

Why Response Models?  29
Types of Response Models  31
Some Simple Market Response Models  33
Calibration  37
Objectives  39
Multiple Marketing-Mix Elements: Interactions  42
Dynamic Effects  42
Market-Share Models and Competitive Effects  44
Response at the Individual Customer Level  46
Shared Experience and Qualitative Models  50
Choosing, Evaluating, and Benefiting From a Marketing Response Model  52
Summary  53
Appendix: About Excel's Solver  54
How Solver Works  56
Conglomerate, Inc. Promotional Analysis  58
Conglomerate, Inc. Response Model Exercise  60

PART 11 Developing Market Strategies  61
Chapter 3  Segmentation and Targeting  61

The Segmentation Process  61
Defining segmentation  61
Segmentation theory and practice  62
The SPP approach  64
Segmenting markets (Phase 1)  66
Describing market segments (Phase 2)  68
Evaluating segment attractiveness (Phase 3)  69
Selecting target segments and allocating resources to segments (Phase 4)  70
Finding targeted customers (Phase 5)  73

Defining a Market  75
Segmentation Research: Designing and Collecting Data  78
Developing the measurement instrument  78
Selecting the sample 79
Selecting and aggregating respondents 79

Segmentation Methods 83
Using factor analysis to reduce the data 84
Forming segments by cluster analysis: Measures of association 84
Clustering methods 88
Interpreting segmentation study results 92

Behavior-Based Segmentation: Cross-Classification, Regression, and Choice Models 96
Cross-classification analysis 96
Regression analysis 96
Choice-based segmentation 97

Customer Heterogeneity in Choice Models 101

Implementing the STP Process 102

Summary 103

Conglomerate Inc.'s New PDA (2001) 104
Introducing the Connector 104

The History of the PDA 105

PDA Types 105
The PDA Customer 106

PDA Features 106

Facts About the PDA Market 106
The HVC Survey 107

The Questionnaire 107
Questions for determining segmentation-basis or needs variables 107
Questions for determining variables for discriminant analysis 108

Appendix: PDA Features Guide 110
Operating system 110
Screen 110
Memory 110
Ergonomics 111
Synchronization 111
Batteries 111
Modem and online services 111
Web 111
CONTENTS

Email, etc. III
Handwriting recognition 111
Other software 112
Accessories 112
Audio 112

ABB Electric Segmentation Case 113
History 113
Situation in 1974 113
New Strategy at ABB Electric 113
Establishing the MKIS Program 114
Choice Modeling 115
Postscript: Situation in 1988 116

Chapter 4 Positioning 117

Differentiation and Positioning 117
  Definition 117
  Positioning strategy 118
Positioning Using Perceptual Maps 119
Applications of Perceptual Maps 122
Perceptual Mapping Techniques 128
  Attribute-based methods 128
  Similarity-based methods for perceptual mapping 136
Joint-Space Maps 139
  Overview 139
  Simple joint-space maps 139
  External analysis using PREFMAP3 141
Incorporating Price in Perceptual Maps 145
Summary 146

Appendix: Factor Analysis for Preprocessing Segmentation Data 147
Positioning the Infiniti G20 Case 148
Introducing the G20 148
Background 148
Research Data 148
Chapter 5  Strategic Market Analysis: Conceptual Framework and Tools  155

Strategic Marketing Decision Making  155
Market Demand and Trend Analysis  159
  Judgmental methods  160
  Market and product analysis  161
  Time-series methods  162
  Causal methods  167
  What method to choose?  174

The Product Life Cycle  175
Cost Dynamics: Scale and Experience Effects  180
Summary  183
Bookbinders Book Club Case  185
The Bookbinders Book Club  185

Chapter 6  Models for Strategic Marketing Decision Making  188

Market Entry and Exit Decisions  188
Shared Experience Models: The PIMS Approach  198
Product Portfolio Models  201
  The Boston Consulting Group (BCG) approach  201
  The GE/McKinsey approach  203
  Financial models  204
  Analytic Hierarchy Process  205

Competition  208
Summary  212
ICI Americas R&D Project Selection Case  213
Product Planning Using the GE/McKinsey Approach at Addison Wesley Longman Case  216
Background  216
  The new marketing texts  217
  The new marketing book promotional challenge  217
  Applying the GE approach  217

Appendix: Details of the Three Books from AWL
  Promotional Material  220
  Portfolio Analysis Exercise  223
Chapter 7: New Product Decisions

Introduction 233

New Product Decision Models 236
- Models for identifying opportunities 236
- Models for product design 238
- Models for new product forecasting and testing 239

Conjoint Analysis for Product Design 239
- Introduction 239
- Conjoint analysis procedure 242
- Other enhancements to the basic conjoint model 250
- Contexts best suited for conjoint analysis 251

Forecasting the Sales of New Products 253
- Overview of the Bass model 253
- Technical description of the Bass model 255
- Extensions of the basic Bass model 261

Pretest Market Forecasting 263
- Overview of the ASSESSOR model 264
- The preference model 266
- Trial-repeat model 268
- The validity and value of the ASSESSOR model 271

Summary 271

Forte Hotel Design Exercise 272

Forte Executive Innes 272

Company Background 272

Preliminary Evaluation 272

Conjoint Analysis (Matching hotel attributes to customer preferences) 274

Zenith High Definition Television (HDTV) Case 277

HDTV Background 277
Zenith HDTV Efforts to Date 279
The TV Market 279
Forecasts of HDTV Sales 281
Johnson Wax: Enhance Case (A) 283
Instant Hair Conditioner 283
S.C. Johnson & Company 283
New-Product Development at Johnson Wax 284
The Hair Conditioning Market 284
Agree 285
Enhance Product Development 286
The ASSESSOR Pretest Market 286
ASSESSOR Results 288
  Trial and repeat model 290
  Preference model estimates of share 291
Recommendations 292

Chapter 8 Advertising and Communications Decisions 302
The Bewildering Nature of Advertising 303
Advertising Effects: Response, Media, and Copy 304
  Advertising response phenomena 304
  Frequency phenomena 308
  Copy effects 309
Advertising Budget Decisions 310
Media Decisions 319
Advertising Copy Development and Decisions 324
  Copy effectiveness 324
  Estimating the creative quality of ads 327
  Advertising design 328
Summary 335
Blue Mountain Coffee Company Case 336
Blue Mountain's Market Position 336
Operation Breakout 337
Planning for Fiscal Year 1995 340
  The market planning model 340
  Recent developments: The U.S. coffee market in transition 341
Convection Corporation Case  343
Using a Communication Planning Model to Aid Industrial Marketing Budget Decisions  343
Background  343
  Heatcrete 4000  344
  Ceratam  344
  Flowclean Sootblowers  345
  Corlin Valve  346
ADVISOR: An Approach to Marketing Budget Planning  347
  Budget task force meeting  348
Johnson Wax Ad Copy Design Exercise  353

Chapter 9 Salesforce and Channel Decisions  354
Introduction to Salesforce Models  354
  Sales-response models for representing the effects of sales activities  354
  Salesforce management decisions  356
Salesforce Sizing and Allocation  357
  Intuitive methods  357
  Market-response methods (the Syntex model)  359
Extending the Syntex Model: Reallocator  365
Sales Territory Design  366
  The GEOLINE model for territory design  367
Salesforce Compensation  369
  Using conjoint analysis to design a bonus plan (the MSZ model)  370
Improving the Efficiency and Effectiveness of Sales Calls  373
  The CALLPLAN model  373
Marketing Channel Decisions  379
  The gravity model  379
Summary  384
Syntex Laboratories (A) Case  386
Company Background  386
Syntex Laboratories  386
Syntex Labs' Product Line  387
  Naprosyn  387
  Anaprox  387
  Topical Steriods  387
  Norinyl  388
  Nasalide  388
CONTENTS xv

The Sales Representative 388

Sales Management at Syntex Labs 389
  Sales Force Size 389
  Call Frequency 390
  Allocation of Sales Efforts Across Products and Physician Specialties 390
  Geographic Allocation of Sales Force 390

Sales Force Strategy Model 391
  Model Development Process 392
  Defining the model inputs 392
  Model Structure 393
  Results of the SSM Analysis 395
  Management implications 395

The John French Exercise: Sales Call Planning for UBC (CALLPLAN) 409

J&J Family Video Case 411

Chapter 10 Price and Sales Promotion Decisions 414

Pricing Decisions: The Classical Economics Approach 414

Pricing in Practice: Orientation to Cost, Demand, or Competition 418
  Cost-oriented pricing 418
  Demand-oriented pricing 419
  Competition-oriented pricing 422

Interactive Pricing: Reference Prices and Price Negotiations 424

Price Discrimination 426
  Understanding price discrimination 426
  Geographic price discrimination 428
  Temporal price discrimination 429
  Nonlinear pricing or quantity discounts 433
  Other forms of price discrimination 434

Pricing Product Lines 434

Sales Promotions: Types and Effects 435
  Objectives of promotions 436
  Characteristics of promotions 436

Aggregate Models to Analyze Promotional Effects 440

Analyzing Individuals' Responses to Promotions 444

Summary 448

Account Pricing for the ABCOR2000 Exercise 449
IV Conclusions  462

Chapter 11  Marketing Engineering: A Look Back and a Look Ahead  462

Marketing Engineering: A Look Back  462
Using Marketing Engineering Within Firms  465
Marketing Engineering: A Look Ahead  467
Postscript  480

References  481
Subject Index  499
Company Index  511
Name Index  515