

Gudrun Jaegersberg • Jenny Ure

Renewable Energy Clusters

Recurring Barriers to Cluster Development in Eleven Countries

 Springer

Contents

Part I Setting the Scene

1	Supporting Clusters to Create Value: Are We Missing Something?	3
1.1	Recurring Barriers to Value Creation Across Clusters	3
1.2	Barriers to Value Creation Within Clusters	5
1.3	A Focus on Renewable Energy Clusters	7
1.4	Aims, Approach and Structure of the Book	9
	References	10
2	What Exactly Are Clusters?	13
2.1	Marshall's Industrial Districts	14
2.2	Becattini's Terza Italia	15
2.3	The Gremi Group and the Milieux Innovateurs	16
2.4	Krugman and 'New Economic Geography'	16
2.5	Porter and Competitive Advantage Through Clusters	17
	References	20
3	Why Share Experience of Barriers?	21
3.1	The View from the Barricades	21
3.2	The Potential to Share Experience of Recurring Barriers	23
3.3	Collaborative Action Research as a Catalyst	24
	References	25
4	How Have We Explored the Issues? The Californian Case as an Example	27
4.1	Mapping the Cluster	27
4.2	Methodology: Qualitative and Quantitative Approaches	35
4.3	Stakeholder Perceptions of Barriers	38
4.4	Discussion: Barriers and Recurring Problem Scenarios	57
	References	58

Part II Case Studies

5	The Portuguese Case: The Cost of Inequality . . . . .	63
5.1	Background . . . . .	63
5.2	Stakeholder Perceptions of Barriers . . . . .	69
5.3	Discussion: Barriers and Recurring Problem Scenarios . . . . .	79
	References . . . . .	83
6	The German Case: A Cluster Under Threat . . . . .	85
6.1	Background . . . . .	85
6.2	Stakeholder Perceptions of Barriers . . . . .	93
6.3	Discussion: Barriers and Recurring Problem Scenarios . . . . .	106
	References . . . . .	109
7	The Canadian Case: The Free Play of Market Forces on an Uneven Playing Field . . . . .	111
7.1	Background . . . . .	111
7.2	Stakeholder Perceptions of Barriers . . . . .	117
7.3	Discussion: Barriers and Recurring Problem Scenarios . . . . .	133
	References . . . . .	135
8	The South African Case: Developing and Implementing Incentives to Capture Solar Market Opportunities . . . . .	137
8.1	Background . . . . .	137
8.2	Stakeholder Perceptions of Barriers . . . . .	144
8.3	Discussion: Barriers and Recurring Problem Scenarios . . . . .	158
	References . . . . .	162

Part III Discussion of Cross-Cutting Barriers

9	Recurring Barriers: Cross Cluster Analysis . . . . .	167
9.1	Introduction to the Cross-Cutting Analysis . . . . .	167
9.2	Cluster Dynamics Through Different Lenses . . . . .	168
9.3	Creating the Connections and the Conditions . . . . .	170
9.4	Looking at Barriers Across Clusters . . . . .	171
9.5	Structure of the Discussion Section . . . . .	174
	References . . . . .	175
10	Barriers at the Interface Between Companies and Universities . . . . .	177
10.1	Research and Development Barriers . . . . .	177
10.2	Barriers to Innovation . . . . .	181
10.3	Lack of Skills and Expertise . . . . .	188
10.4	Implications: Learning From Other Clusters . . . . .	192
	References . . . . .	193

11 Policy-Related Barriers . . . . .	195
11.1 Barriers at Different Stages in the Policy Development Cycle . . .	195
11.2 Barriers Related to Existing Policies . . . . .	196
11.3 Barriers Related to Implementation . . . . .	211
11.4 Barriers Related to Feedback . . . . .	217
11.5 Implications . . . . .	221
References . . . . .	222
12 Communication and Collaboration Barriers . . . . .	225
12.1 Lack of Communication/Collaboration at Key Interfaces . . . . .	225
12.2 Interface with Policymakers . . . . .	228
12.3 Interface with Universities . . . . .	233
12.4 Interface with Other Companies . . . . .	235
12.5 Implications: Creating Value Within Clusters . . . . .	238
References . . . . .	241
 Part IV Conclusion
13 Are We Missing Something? How Can Cluster Policies Create the Conditions for Value Generation? . . . . .	245
13.1 Mapping Barriers to Cluster Development and Competitiveness . . . . .	245
13.2 Informing Cluster Policy . . . . .	249
13.3 Creating the Conditions for Value Creation . . . . .	258
Appendix . . . . .	261
References . . . . .	262
 Appendix . . . . .	 265