

Governing as Governance

Jan Kooiman

SAGE Publications
London • Thousand Oaks • New Delhi

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements	xii
PART I GOVERNANCE, GOVERNING AND INTERACTION	I
1 Setting the Stage	3
Social-political governance	3
Defining governing and governance	4
Crossing boundaries	5
Overview of the book	8
2 Interaction	11
Interactions	12
Interactions as an analytical concept	13
The intentional or actor level of interactions	13
The structural level of interactions	14
Interaction as a synthetic concept	15
Relations between actor and structure in interactions	16
Societal diversity, dynamics, complexity and interactions	17
A model of interactions	19
Varieties of societal interactions	20
Interferences	21
Interplays	21
Interventions	22
Types of interactions and modes of governance	23
Conclusion	24
PART II ELEMENTS OF GOVERNANCE	27
3 Governing Images	29
Assumptions, knowledge and learning	30
Assumptions	31
Knowledge	32
Learning	33
Factual and evaluative systems	34
Images and societal diversity, dynamics and complexity	35
Images and diversity	35
Images and dynamics	36
Images and complexity	37
The social-political (public) sphere	38
Communication	38
The public sphere and image formation	39
The role of the (mass) media	40
Conclusion	43

4	Governing Instrumentation	45
	Instrumentation as interaction	46
	Instruments and varieties of interaction	50
	Information and interferences	50
	Organisation and interplays	52
	Rules and interventions	54
	Instruments and societal diversity, dynamics and complexity	56
	Instruments and dynamics	57
	Instruments and diversity	58
	Instruments and complexity	59
	Conclusion	60
5	Governing Action	62
	Action: actor and structure orientations	62
	Social-political capital	64
	Different types of governing action and their potential	65
	Leadership	66
	Social movements	69
	Co-ordination	72
	Conclusion	75
	PART III MODES OF GOVERNANCE	77
6	Self-governance	79
	Introduction	79
	Some theoretical positions	80
	Self-governance as autopoiesis	80
	Self-governance as actor constellations	81
	Self-governance as patterns of interaction	83
	Self-governance and images of the field	85
	Two applications of self-governance	86
	Self-governance of the professions	86
	Self-governance of the Commons	89
	Self-governance in societal fields	90
	Deregulation, self-regulation and self-governance	91
	Conclusion	92
7	Co-governance	96
	Collaboration and co-operation	97
	Collaboration	97
	Co-operation	99
	Varieties of 'co-modes'	100
	Communicative governance	100
	Public-Private Partnerships (PPPs)	102
	Co-management	103

Networks	104
Regimes	106
Synthesis	108
Co-governance at the intentional level of governing interactions	108
Co-governance at the structural level of governing interactions	110
Conclusion	112
8 Hierarchical Governance	115
Steering and control	116
Steering	116
Control	117
The changing face of the modern state	118
From command to regulation	120
From procuring to enabling	121
From benevolence to activation	122
Arenas of hierarchical governance	123
The legal arena	123
The policy arena	126
Conclusion	129
PART IV ORDERS OF GOVERNANCE	133
9 Problems and Opportunities (First-Order Governance)	135
Problems	135
Social-political problems	137
Opportunities	139
Dealing with diversity, dynamics and complexity	139
Ordering diversity	140
First reduction of complexity	141
Analysing dynamics	142
The solution perspective	142
Second reduction of complexity	143
Governance issues	144
Moral or other normative governance issues	145
Risk as a governance issue	148
Conclusion	151
10 Institutions (Second-Order Governance)	153
What are institutions?	154
State, market and civil society as institutions	156
State as institution	158
Market as institution	160
Civil society as institution	162
Governance, representation, needs and capacities	165
Conclusion	167

11 Meta (Third-Order Governance)	170
A meta perspective	170
Rationality: meta considerations on governing elements	172
Communicative rationality – evaluating images and image formation	174
Bounded rationality – evaluating the instrumental condition	174
Integrating the rationality concepts: rationality of action in a situation	175
Responsiveness: meta considerations on modes of governance	177
Responsiveness and self-governance	178
Responsiveness and ‘co’-governance	179
Responsiveness and hierarchical governance	181
Performance: the three governance orders in a normative perspective	182
Effectiveness as norm for first-order governing	183
Legitimacy as norm for second-order governance	184
Moral responsibility as norm for meta governance	185
Conclusion	188
 PART V GOVERNANCE AND GOVERNABILITY	 191
12 Society, Governance and Governability	193
Diversity and governance	194
Complexity, governing and governance	197
Dynamics and governance	199
Societal diversity, complexity and dynamics and governability	203
Diversity, complexity, dynamics and interactions	203
Diversity, complexity, dynamics and elements of governing	204
Diversity, complexity, dynamics and modes of governance	206
Diversity, complexity and dynamics, and orders of governance	207
Conclusion	208
 13 Interactions, Governance and Governability	 211
Interactions, interdependence and inter-penetration	211
Interdependence, inter-penetration and governability	213
Inter-penetration between state, market and civil society	215
Civil-society – state interdependence and inter-penetration: political society	216
Market-state interdependence and inter-penetration: public management	216
State, market and civil society inter-penetrations: sustainable society	217
Varieties of societal interactions and modes of governance	218
Interferences and self-governance	218
Interplays and co-governance	220
Interventions and hierarchical governance	221
Types of interactions, modes of governance and cybernetic qualities	223
Governability and relations between aspects of governance	224
Elements of governing and modes of governance	224
Elements of governing and orders of governance	225

Modes of governance and societal institutions	226
Orders of governance and societal institutions	227
Conclusion	228
Glossary	231
References	233
Index	247