

THE GUILT OF NATIONS

RESTITUTION AND NEGOTIATING

HISTORICAL INJUSTICES

Elazar Barkan

W. W. Norton & Company | New York London

CONTENT

Preface ix

Introduction: Amending Historical Injustices in International Morality xv

PART I: RESIDUES OF WORLD WAR II

Chapter 1: The Faustian Predicament: German Reparation to Jews 3

Chapter 2: American Memory:

Japanese Americans Remember the Camps 30

Chapter 3: Sex Slaves: Comfort Women and Japanese Guilt 46

Chapter 4: Plunder as Justice: Russian Victims and Glorious Museums 65

Chapter 5: Nazi Gold and Swiss Solidarity:

A New Mechanism for Rewriting Historical Crimes? 88

Chapter 6: Restitution in East Central Europe:

Deserving and Undeserving Victims 112

PART II: COLONIALISM AND ITS AFTERMATH

Chapter 7: "First Nations" Renaissance: Indigenous Groups and the Pluralistic Model 159

Chapter 8: Native American Restitution: Land, Human Remains, and Sacred Objects 169

Chapter 9: Hawaii: The Other Native Americans 216

VIII CONTENTS

Chapter 10: Oceanic Models for Indigenous Groups: Australian Aborigines	232
Chapter 11: Once Were Warriors : The Limits of Successful Restitution	262
Chapter 12: Restitution for Slavery: Opportunity or Fantasy?	283
Conclusion: Toward a Theory of Restitution	308
Notes	351
Acknowledgments	389
Index	391