

The Business of Tourism

Sixth edition

J Christopher Holloway

FINANCIAL TIMES

Prentice Hall

An imprint of Pearson Education

Harlow, England • London • New York • Reading, Massachusetts • San Francisco • Toronto • Don Mills, Ontario • Sydney
Tokyo • Singapore • Hong Kong • Seoul • Taipei • Cape Town • Madrid • Mexico City • Amsterdam • Munich • Paris • Milan

Contents

|  |           |
|--|-----------|
| Preface to the sixth edition  | ix |
| List of abbreviations   | xi |
|    |           |
| Chapter 1 An introduction to tourism  |           |
| Defining tourism   | 1         |
| The tourist product  | 4         |
| The nature of a tour   | 5         |
| The tourist destination  | 7         |
|    |           |
| Chapter 2 The history of tourism: from its origins to the age of steam      | 17 |
| Introduction   | 17        |
| Travel in the Middle Ages  | 19        |
| Developments in road transport in the seventeenth to earlynineteenth centuries | 20        |
| The Grand Tour   | 20        |
| Political hindrance to travel  | 21        |
| The development of the spas  | 22        |
| The rise of the seaside resort   | 23        |
| The conditions favouring the expansion of travel in the nineteenth century         | 24        |
| The age of steam   | 26        |
| Other late-nineteenth-century developments   | 29        |
|    |           |
| Chapter 3 Tourism in the twentieth century                                  | 31 |
| The first fifty years  | 31        |
| Tourism since World War II   | 34        |
| Factors influencing changes in tourism demand                                      | 42        |

|                  |  |             |
|------------------|--|-------------|
| 4         | The economics of tourism  | 46   |
|                  | Introduction   | 46          |
|                  | The international tourist market   | 46          |
|                  | Britain's place in world tourism   | 49          |
|                  | The value of economic data   | 51          |
|                  | The economic impact of tourism   | 53          |
|                  | Statistical measurement of tourism                                       | 59          |
|                  | Tourist motivation and behaviour                                  | 64   |
|                  | Introduction   | 64          |
|                  | The tourist's needs and wants  | 64          |
|                  | General and specific motivation  | 66          |
|                  | Motivators and facilitators  | 67          |
|                  | Psychological and sociological factors influencing motivation            | 68          |
|                  | The motivation of business travellers                                    | 74          |
| Chapter 6 | The structure and organization of the travel and tourism industry | 76   |
|                  | The tourism chain of distribution  | 76          |
|                  | Common-interest organizations  | 78          |
|                  | Integration in the tourism industry                                      | 82          |
|                  | Conglomerates and international integration                              | 86          |
| Chapter 7 | Passenger transport: the aviation business                        | 88   |
|                  | Introduction   | 88          |
|                  | The airline business   | 89          |
|                  | The organization of air transport  | 91          |
|                  | Air transport regulation   | 98          |
|                  | Deregulation of air transport  | 105         |
|                  | The economics of airline operation                                       | 107         |
|                  | The marketing of air services  | 113         |
| Chapter 8 | Water-borne passenger transport                                   | 119" |
|                  | Introduction   | 119         |
|                  | The ocean liners   | 120         |
|                  | Cruising   | 121         |
|                  | Ferry services   | 132         |
|                  | Coastal and inland waterways tourism                                     | 1 39        |
|                  | Seagoing pleasure craft  | 142         |

|                   |  |            |
|-------------------|--|------------|
| Chapter 9  | Other modes of tourist travel                               | 144 |
|                   | The role of the railways in tourism                                | 144        |
|                   | Coach travel   | 153        |
|                   | The private car  | 157        |
|                   | Cycling and tourism  | 159        |
|                   | Tourists on foot   | 160        |
| Chapter 10 | The hospitality sector: accommodation and catering services | 162 |
|                   | Introduction   | 162        |
|                   | The structure of the accommodation sector                          | 163        |
|                   | The nature of demand for accommodation facilities                  | 169        |
|                   | The distribution of accommodation                                  | 178        |
|                   | Environmental issues   | 179        |
| Chapter 11 | Visitor attractions and visitor management                  | 181 |
|                   | Introduction   | 181        |
|                   | Seaside resorts  | 183        |
|                   | Spa tourism  | 186        |
|                   | Urban tourism  | 186        |
|                   | Rural tourism  | 188        |
|                   | Purpose-built attractions  | 193        |
|                   | Other site attractions   | 205        |
|                   | Cultural tourism   | 206        |
|                   | Retail shopping  | 211        |
|                   | Events   | 212        |
| Chapter 12 | Tour operating  | 220 |
|                   | The role of the tour operator                                      | 220        |
|                   | The specialized roles of tour operators                            | 223        |
|                   | The British tour operating scene                                   | 225        |
|                   | The nature of tour operating                                       | 236        |
|                   | Control over tour operating  | 238        |
|                   | Planning, marketing and operating package tours                    | 240        |
|                   | The process of negotiating   | 242        |
|                   | The role of the resort representative                              | 244        |
|                   | Pricing the package tour   | 246        |
|                   | The tour brochure  | 251        |
|                   | The reservations system  | 255        |
|                   | The distribution network   | 257        |
|                   | The IT revolution and its impact on tour operating                 | 260        |

|                   |  |            |
|-------------------|--|------------|
| Chapter 13 | Travel retailing                                | 263 |
|                   | Introduction   | 263        |
|                   | The role of travel agents                              | 264        |
|                   | Setting up and running a travel agency                 | 266        |
|                   | Travel agency skills and competences                   | 270        |
|                   | Business travel  | 275        |
|                   | Travel agency appointments                             | 276        |
|                   | Profitability of travel agents                         | 279        |
| Chapter 14 | Ancillary tourism services                      | 289 |
|                   | Introduction   | 289        |
|                   | Services to the tourist                                | 289        |
|                   | Services to the supplier                               | 295        |
|                   | Marketing services                                     | 297        |
| Chapter 15 | The structure and role of public sector tourism | 301 |
|                   | Introduction   | 301        |
|                   | The nature of government involvement                   | 301        |
|                   | Planning and facilitating tourism                      | 304        |
|                   | Control and supervision in tourism                     | 308        |
|                   | The organization of public sector tourism              | 310        |
|                   | Public sector tourism in Britain                       | 312        |
|                   | Functions of the tourist boards                        | 325        |
| Chapter 16 | Tourism design and management                   | 333 |
|                   | Introduction   | 333        |
|                   | The role of design in tourism                          | 333        |
|                   | The management of tourism sites                        | 347        |
| Chapter 17 | The social and environmental impact of tourism  | 354 |
|                   | Introduction   | 354        |
|                   | The environmental effects of tourism                   | 355        |
|                   | Planning for control and conservation                  | 365        |
|                   | The socio-cultural effects of tourism                  | 372        |
|                   | Managing the social impact of tourism                  | 377        |
|                   | The future of tourism                                  | 378        |
|                   | Bibliography   | 303        |
|                   | Index  | 397        |