

AN INTELLECTUAL HISTORY
OF THE CARIBBEAN

Silvio Torres-Saillant

palgrave
macmillan

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments	ix
Preface	1
Introduction: Caribbean Unity in Nature, History, and Prospects	11
The Name and the Mystery	11
The Physical Environment	12
Conquest and Domination	15
The Cultural Geography	18
Forging the Modern World Imperially	21
The Languages and Cultures	24
On Knowing the Caribbean	27
The Musical Turn	29
The Last Resort of Culture	34
The Rhythms of Success	37
Shrinking Thought Horizons	40
Farewell to the Future	44
Musical Consolation	47
1 Colonial Migration and Theoric Awakening	51
An Antillean's Voyage of Discovery	51
A Theoric Preamble	53
Knowledge in My Father's House	54
Invasion and Two-Way Mobility	57
Foreign Domination, Native Identity	62
Child Labor, Invasion, Migration	67
Power, Authority, and the Resistive Spirit	70
On the Partiality of Book Learning	73
Inequity in the Market of Ideas	75
Western Education and Colonial Alterity	78
Reading with an Attitude	84
Commitment to Theory and Ethnic Predicament	87
Ethnicity at Siege in the Global Society	93
The Enduring Significance of Borders	99
Intellectual Self-Defense in Caribbean Thought	103

2 The Endless History: The Caribbean versus Western Discourse	107
A Zone of Alterity	107
On Negative Ontology	113
Haiti in the Antillean World	127
Alter Native Creolity	136
History as Hieroglyph and the Postcolonial	150
The Enduring Plantation	164
Intellects as Maroons	182
3 Caliban's Dilemma: A Disabling Memory and Possible Hope	199
Columbian Language and the Trauma	199
Caliban's Caribbean Contingency	205
Unkept Promises, Precarious Hope	212
Quisqueya's Unreliable Caliban	214
Exogenous Paradigms	217
Anatomy of Disillusionment	221
The Colonial Border Today	224
Homo Migrans	228
Caliban Reformed: A Vision of the Future	233
Epilogue: A Century of Caribbean Diaspora	243
Works Cited	255
Index	277