

m

Texas A & M University

Auburn University

A HISTORY OF ECONOMIC THEORY AND METHOD

McGraw-Hill Book Company • New York • St. Louis
San Francisco ® Auckland ® Dliseldorf • Johannesburg
Kuala Lumpur • London • Mexico « Montreal » New Delhi • Panama
Paris # Sao Paulo « Singapore • Sydney • Tokyo • Toronto

Contents

	Preface	xI
Part One	Introduction
	1 History of Economic Theory and Method: An Introduction
Part Two	The Classical World and Before
	2 Household Economy and Political Economy: Ancient, Medieval, and Mercantilist Contributions	19
	3 The Physiocrats and Adam Smith: French and English Origins of Political Economy	49
	4 Malthus, Ricardo, and Senior	80
	APPENDIX The Elegant Dynamics of the Classical System	104
	5 Bentham, Mill, and Cairnes: Close of the Classical System	110
Part Three	Nineteenth-Century Heterodoxy
	6 Evolutionists, Radicals, and Reformers	145
	7 Karl Marx	168
	8 The Historical Movement in Germany and England	192

Contents

Part Four	Neoclassical Analysis before Marshall's "Principles"
9	Cournot and Dupuit: The Origins of Formal Microanalysis	207
	APPENDIX Early Advances in Germany and America: Von Thiinen and Ellet	231
10	Microanalysis and Statistics in England, circa 1871: William Stanley Jevons	246
	APPENDIX Lardner and Jenkin: Two English Precursors of Jevons	266
11	Austrian Economics: Menger, von Wieser, and Bohm-Bawerk	273
Part Five	The Rise of Marginalism in Europe, Britain, and America
12	Neoclassical Foundations of Modern Value Theory (I): Walras and Marshall	307
13	Neoclassical Foundations of Modern Value Theory (II): Walras and Marshall	337
	APPENDIX John Bates Clark and Marginalism in America	378
14	The Development of Neoclassical Monetary Theory	389
Part Six	Twentieth-Century Paradigms
15	John Maynard Keynes and the General Theory	409
16	Competition Reconsidered: Chamberlin and Robinson	438
17	Contemporary Theorists and Tomorrow's Concerns	466
Indexes	Name Index	487
	Subject Index	