

A History of Modern Political Thought

The Question of Interpretation

GARY BROWNING

OXFORD
UNIVERSITY PRESS

Contents

1. Introduction	1
PART I. INTERPRETIVE SCHEMES
2. Hegel and Marx: Political Culture, Economy, and Ideology	25
3. Oakeshott, Collingwood, and the Historical Turn	46
4. Quentin Skinner, the Cambridge School, and Contextualism	67
5. Derrida: Deconstructing the Canon	89
6. Foucault: Politics, History, and Discourse	111
7. Gadamer and Hermeneutics	134
PART II. INTERPRETATIONS OF MODERN POLITICAL THINKERS
8. Machiavelli: Modernity and the Renaissance Man	157
9. Hobbes: The Politics of Absolutism	175
10. Locke: History and Political Thought	196
11. Rousseau: Nature and Society	215
12. Kant: Morality, Politics, and Cosmopolitanism	234
13. Hegel: The Politics of Modernity	254
14. Karl Marx: One or Many?	274
15. Jeremy Bentham: Enlightenment Politics	294
16. John Stuart Mill: Then and Now	313
17. Nietzsche: Politics, Power, and Philosophy	333
18. Simone de Beauvoir: The Politics of Sex	353
19. Conclusion: Political Thought and History	372
Bibliography	399
Index	423