

Damien J. Neven
Lars-Hendrik Roller (eds.)

The Political Economy of Industrial Policy in Europe and the Member States

CONTENTS

The Costs and Benefits of Centralization in the Field of Industrial Policy - Introduction Damien J. Neven and Lars-Hendrik Roller	7
Reducing State Aid in the European Union Jordi Gual	11
The Political Economy of State Aid: Econometric Evidence for the Member States Damien J. Neven and Lars-Hendrik Roller	25
Industrial Policy after Maastricht: What is Possible? Peter Holmes and Paul Seabright	-39
Technology Policies and Institutional Frameworks: Contrasting Germany with the U.K. David, Soskice	69
The European Strategic Program for Research in Information Technologies (ESPRIT): An Ex Post Analysis Frank R. Lichtenberg	99
The Centralization of R&D Resource Allocation Rune Stenbacka and Mihkel M. Tombak	121
Government Support of the European Information Technology Industry Michael Kende	141
R&D Tax Incentives: Issues and Evidence Pierre Mohnen	183
Table of Acronyms	201
About the Authors	203