

The Economist's Tale

A Consultant Encounters Hunger and the World Bank

Peter Griffiths

ZED BOOKS
London & New York

Contents

Foreword: Is the Story True? •	vii
The Task Ahead *	r
Meeting the Minister *	6
The Expats *	11
Meeting the Officials •	18
- The Casablanca *	24
Exchange Rates *	28
The United Nations •	32
Doing Business in Freetown *	39
Finding the Facts *	44
The Casablanca *	49
The Weekend *	^5
In the Markets *	6<
Vanishing Rice *	72
Military Coups *	74
Planning My Expedition •	78
Alarm at the World Bank •	81
Into the Interior •	83
Visiting the Projects *	92
The Resthouse *	98
More Projects *	100
The University *	107
Trekking On *	113

Finding the Facts *	124
The Southern Province •	130
Colonialism *	140
Home Again •	141
Financing the System •	143
What Happened to the Money •	145
Freetown *'	148
Getting Information •	151
How Civil Servants Survive*	IC4
Trickle Down •	157
How Much Food is There? •	162
The World Bank Reform •	167
Cash Flow Problems *	176
The Agricultural Marketing Board •	178
Of Coups and Rumours of Coups •-	179
How Much Rice is Imported? *	181
•Who Will Import? *	184 • •
How Do-1 Get Action? •	192
The Casablanca *	201
Cabinet Paper--	267
Getting it to the Decision-makers *	213
Handing it Over •	21^
On Trek Again •	216
Mother Theresa *	225
Waiting 'for Action *	226
The Marketing Board •	233
A Sundowner •	234
Revisiting the Importers •	23^
A Second Cabinet Paper *	240
Dishonest Expatriates •	243
Alerting' the World Food Programme *	244
Breaking, the Rules *	24^
The Showdown *	248
And Then What? *	2^0
Glossary •	