

Bolivia

Public Policy Options for the Well-Being of All

Edited by

Vicente Fretes-Cibils

Marcelo Giugale

Connie Luff

Contents

Preface	xv
Acknowledgments	xvii
Editor Biographies	xix
Acronyms	xxi
Overview	1
I. Context	1
II. Reflections on the Past	2
III. Opportunities and Suggestions for the Future	10
IV. Some Suggestions on Areas of Priority and Schedule	24
Table 1. If Bolivia Had Matched the Pace of Economic Growth in Latin America, 1950–2000	4
Table 2. How Sustained Growth of 4.5 to 5% Could Increase Income and Reduce Poverty	11
Table 3. Suggested Areas of Priority and Schedule	25

Part I Growing More and Better

1. Socially Responsible Macroeconomic Management	29
I. Introduction	29
II. Background and Diagnosis of Economic Risks	30
III. Macroeconomic Management Since 1998	36
IV. Conclusions and Recommendations	43
Bibliography	46
Figure 1. Trends in the Macroeconomic Situation	31
Figure 2. The Business Climate—Regional and Global Context	35
Figure 3. The Business Climate—International Comparison	35
Figure 4. Social Instability and Interest Rates	36
Figure 5. Public and Private International Capital Flows	38

Table 1.	Destination of Trade, 2003	35
Table 2.	Public Spending by Level of Education in Total Expenditures on Education, by Quintiles (Percentages)	42
Box 1.	Macroeconomic Fragility and Growth in the 1990s.	33
Box 2.	How Have the Shocks Affected the Economy?	37
2.	Taxes, Collection Capabilities, and Distribution	49
I.	Background.	49
II.	Evaluation of National Taxes and Policy Options	52
III.	Tax Administration and Customs	58
IV.	Tax System on Upstream Hydrocarbons	62
V.	Distribution of Tax revenue.	65
VI.	Conclusions.	71
	Bibliography	73
Annex 1.	Principal National Taxes	74
Annex 2.	Tax Regime on the Upstream Hydrocarbon Activities	77
Annex 3.	System for the Allocation of Tax Revenue	79
Figure 1.	Trends and Structure of Tax Revenue in Bolivia, 1990–2004	50
Figure 2.	VAT Tax Evasion, 2000–2004	60
Figure 3.	Investment in Gas Exploration, Exploitation, and Reserves, 1990–2004	63
Figure 4.	Reserves of Gas in Latin American Countries (TCF of Gas)	63
Figure 5.	Royalties on Natural Gas Production Worldwide.	65
Figure 6.	Distribution of Taxes among Departments, 2000–2004	67
Figure 7.	Participation of the Municipalities in Departmental Allocations, 2004	68
Figure 8.	Effect of the IDH on the Vertical Distribution of Taxes, 2004	69
Figure 9.	Effect of the IDH on the Distribution of Taxes to the Departments, 2004	70
Table 1.	Tax Burden as a Percentage, by Household Income Quintiles	51
Table 2.	Structure of National Tax Revenue, 1990–2004	52
Table 3.	The VAT in Latin America, 2001	53
Table 4.	Taxes on Corporate Income in Latin America	55
Table 5.	Comparisons between Tax Systems, Positions of Selected Countries, 2004.	59
Table 6.	Imports Processed Annually by Customs Employees	61
Table 7.	Principal Policy Options	72
3.	Transaction Costs and Aid Effectiveness	85
I.	Background.	85
II.	Pending Challenges	90
III.	Policy Recommendations—An Opportunity.	91

Annex I.	Paris Agenda: Goals Agreed Upon in Relation to the 12 Progress Indicators	97
Annex II.	Examples of Activities at the Country Level	99
Annex III.	The New Relationship Framework between the Government and the International Cooperation Community in the 21st Century, a Proposal to the Consultative Group, 1999	100
Annex IV.	Executive Summary: National Harmonization and Alignment Plan	105
Box 1.	Incidence of International Aid in Bolivia	87
Box 2.	Fiscal Roundtable And Sector Wide Approaches In The Education Sector: Two Concrete Examples Of Coordination And Harmonization.	88
Box 3.	Harmonization of Policies and Procedures for Procurements and Financial Management.	92
Box 4.	Inter-Institutional Follow-Up and Evaluation Council	93
	Resource Guide.	96
4.	Management and Sustainability of the Public Debt	113
I.	Background	113
II.	Sustainability of the Debt	118
III.	Public Debt Management	121
IV.	Efficient Control of Subnational Debt	125
	Bibliography	128
Annex I.	Analytical Framework for Debt Sustainability	130
Annex II.	Contingent Liabilities	132
Figure 1.	Public Debt Trends	114
Figure 2.	Public Debt in Latin America	114
Figure 3.	Composition of the External Debt, 2004	117
Figure 4.	Composition of the Domestic Debt, 2004	117
Figure 5.	Debt Trends if the Primary Deficit Remains at Historic Levels	119
Figure 6.	Primary Deficit Needed to Maintain Debt Levels following the Debt Cancellation	120
Figure 7.	Composition of Treasury Instruments on the Open Market	123
Figure 8.	Average Maturation of Placements of Treasury Instruments.	124
Table 1.	Sensitivity of the Required Primary Deficit, Depending Upon Different Economic Growth Assumptions (Percent of GDP)	120
Table 2.	Principal Debt Indicators of the Institutions in the Financial Restructuring Plan.	126
Box 1.	External Debt Restructuring and Relief	116
Box 2.	Assumptions of the Base Scenario	118
Box 3.	Institutions Involved in Public Debt Management	122
Box 4.	Budget Administration Act and Control of the Subnational Debt	126

5. Challenges and Opportunities for the Financial System	135
I. Background	136
II. Recent Policy Measures Relevant to the Financial Sector	142
III. Selected Issues and Policy Recommendations	146
Bibliography	151
Annex: Banking Trends	154
Figure 1. Financial System Trends in Public Obligations	138
Figure A1. Trends in the Variables of the Bank and Non-Bank System (1998–September 2005)	154
Figure A2. Trends in Bank Deposits Denominated in Local Currency and Dollars, by Term (March 2004–September 2005)	155
Figure A3a. Annual Trends in Default Rates by Group of Entities (2002–September 2005)	155
Figure A3b. Annual Trends in the Coverage of the Default Portfolio, by Group of Entities (2002–September 2005)	156
Figure A4. Trends in the Default Rate for the Rescheduled, Non-Rescheduled, and Total Portfolio of the Banking System (December 2003–September 2005)	156
Table 1. Number of Branches in Rural and Urban Areas, by Type of Entity	141
Table A1. Concentration of Bank Deposits, November 2005 and December 2002	157
Box 1. Credit Technologies of the MFEs	137
Box 2. Weaknesses of Law 2495	145
Box 3. NAFIBO Contribution and the Value of Holding Shares of the BUN	149
6. The Gas Era	163
I. Background	163
II. Industry Features	165
Bibliography	182
Figure 1. Bolivia: Foreign Direct Investment	165
Figure 2. Investments in Exploration and Exploitation (1992–2005)	166
Figure 3. Comparison of Government Revenue on Exploration and Exploitation Contracts	168
Figure 4. Gas Exports to Brazil – Mutún (in millions of m ³ /d)	172
Figure 5. Distribution of Revenue from the Direct Tax on Hydrocarbons (IDH), 2006	174
Figure 6. Costs and Prices of LPG	176
Figure 7. Incidence of Subsidies on the Population	177
Figure 8. Supply and Demand for Oil	178
Figure 9. Supply and Demand for LPG	178
Table 1. Bolivia—Certified Natural Gas and Oil/Condensate Reserves	164

Table 2.	Oil Exports	166
Table 3.	Taxes under Law 1689 (Exploration and Exploitation)	167
Table 4.	Royalties and Income Taxes	168
Table 5.	Results of the June 2004 Referendum	170
Table 6.	Taxes under Law 3058 (Exploration and Exploitation)	171
Table 7.	Gasoline and Diesel Oil Prices (December 2004–January 2005) ..	175
7.	Economic Growth through Productivity and Competitiveness	185
I.	Background: The Problem is Slow Growth	185
II.	Issues of Competitiveness and the Investment Environment	189
III.	Policy Options and Choices	192
	Bibliography	201
	Annex	202
Figure 1.	Informality	186
Figure A1.	Property Rights and Judicial Performance Indicators	202
Figure A2.	Public Regulation Indicators	202
Table 1.	Contribution of Companies to the GDP and to Jobs, by Size, 1999	187
Table 2.	Global Competitiveness Index, 2004	189
Table 3.	Ranking in the Public Institutions Index, Selected Countries, 2004	190
Table 4.	Starting a Company, Selected Countries, 2005	191
Table 5.	Suggested Policy Measures, in Chronological Order	198
Table A1.	Annual Growth of Per Capita GDP for Selected Countries, 1950–2000	203
Table A2.	Contractual Performance, Selected Countries, 2005	204
Table A3.	Trade Across International Borders, Selected Countries, 2005	205
Box 1.	Lessons from International Experience with EPZs.	197
8.	Rural Development	207
I.	Introduction	208
II.	The Principal Challenges	214
III.	Policy Options	222
	Bibliography	227
	Annex: Some Characteristics of the Coca Leaf Sector	229
Figure 1.	Trends in the Cultivated Surface Area of Major Crops (1985–2004)	211
Figure 2.	Trends in GDP of the Manufacturing Sector, by Sub-sector (1989–2004)	211
Figure 3.	Basic Unsatisfied Needs: Population by Poverty Strata, 1992–2001	218
Figure 4.	Comparative Yields	221

Table 1.	National Population, by Geographic Area, Censuses of 1950, 1976, 1992, and 2001	209
Table 2.	Distribution of Shared Tax Revenue and HIPC II, by Geographic Area	210
Table 3.	Poverty Indicators for 2002, by Geographic Area and Recent Migration	216
Table 4.	Average Annual Variation in the Incidence of Poverty and Extreme Poverty, by Unsatisfied Basic Needs	218
Table 5.	Incidence of Poverty, by Unsatisfied Basic Needs 1976, 1992, 2001	219
Table A.1.	Coca Leaf Production in the Andes, Hectares, 1994–2004	231
9.	Trade and Integration Policies	237
I.	Background—Characteristics of the External Sector	237
II.	Diagnosis—Principal Restrictions in the Foreign Trade Sector	243
III.	Policy Recommendations	248
	Bibliography	250
Figure 1.	Composition of Non-Traditional Exports, 2004	239
Figure 2.	Concentration of Exports, 1962–2003	239
Figure 3.	Labor Content of Manufacturing Exports by Region, 2003	240
Figure 4.	Non-Traditional Exports by Principal Market and Competitors, 2003	241
Figure 5.	Percentage of Average Exported Years of a Product, 1980–2000	242
Figure 6.	Impact of Article 6 of Supreme Decree 24565	244

Part II With Benefits for All

10.	The Dynamics of Poverty and Inequality	255
I.	Poverty and Inequality: Growth and Trends	256
II.	Constraints to Employment Creation—the Demand for Labor	260
III.	Constraints to Human Capital Accumulation—The Supply of Labor	264
IV.	Selected Policy Recommendations to Reduce Poverty and Inequality	266
V.	Synergies in Policies for Growth and for the Reduction of Poverty and Inequality	269
	Bibliography	269
Figure 1.	Gini Coefficients in Latin America: Distribution of Equivalent Household Income, Approximately 2000	258
Figure 2.	Growth Rate Curves, 1993–2002	258
Figure 3.	Distribution of Per Capita Income by Household, 2002, Urban and Rural	259

Figure 4.	Index of De Jure Employment Conditions in Bolivia and around the World, (0–1)	263
Figure 5.	Demographic Transition and Accumulation of Capital in Bolivia and Latin America	265
Table 1.	Measures of Poverty, 1993–2002	257
Table 2.	Comparison of Investment Climate Indicators in Bolivia and Other Selected Countries of Latin America, 2004	261
11.	Social Inclusion of Indigenous Peoples	273
I.	Diagnosis	273
II.	Incidence of Poverty in the Indigenous and Non-Indigenous Population	276
III.	The Challenge of Discrimination	280
IV.	Conclusions and Options for the Future	282
	Bibliography	285
Table 1.	Percentage of Indigenous Population, Using Different Indicators	274
Table 2.	Self-Identification as Indigenous Peoples for the Population Age 15 or Older	274
Table 3.	Percentage of the Population Age 6 or Older who Speak a Native Language	275
Table 4.	Percentage of the Indigenous Population by Different Indicators and Age Groups	275
Table 5.	Incidence of Poverty and Extreme Poverty by Income Method	276
Table 6.	Incidence of Poverty by Educational Level, 2002	281
Table 7.	Global Approaches to Affirmative Policies or Positive Policies	282
12.	Gender Issues	289
I.	A Gender Diagnostic	290
II.	The Gender Outlook	290
III.	Economic Characteristics of the Citizenry	292
IV.	Violence against Women	294
V.	Civic Involvement	295
VI.	Legal Framework, Gender-Related Policies, and Public Institutions	298
VII.	Conclusions and Policy Options	299
	Bibliography	301
13.	Primary and Secondary Education	307
I.	Background	307
II.	Principal Issues to be Addressed	312
III.	Policy Recommendations	321
	Bibliography	326

Figure 1.	Enrollment Rates and per capita GNP	310
Figure 2.	Enrollment by Levels	311
Figure 3.	School Attendance by Ethnic Group, Income Quintile, Gender, and Urban or Rural Residence.	313
Figure 4.	Enrollment (darker line) and Attendance (lighter line) by Age and Demographic Group.	318
Table 1.	Educational Spending as a Percentage of the GDP in 2002.	312
Table 2.	Average Ratings in Mathematics and Language on the LLECE for the Third Grade.	316
Box 1.	Chile's "Secondary Education for All" Program	315
Box 2.	Increased School Attendance through Monetary Transfers in Brazil: the Bolsa Escola Program	322
Box 3.	Fe y Alegría	323
14.	The Health Sector	329
I.	Background	329
II.	Organization of the Sector	332
III.	Principal Problems in the Sector	335
IV.	Policy Options.	340
	Bibliography	343
Figure 1.	Coverage of Childbirths at a Healthcare Establishment; 1995–2005	335
Figure 2.	Difference in Healthcare Performance with and without Supervision	337
Figure 3.	Basic Financing Elements for the Health Sector.	338
Figure 4.	SUMI Healthcare by Level and Type of Municipality	339
Table 1.	Indicators in Latin America	330
Table 2.	Progress towards the Millennium Development Goals.	331
Table 3.	Progress in Health Indicators	331
Table 4.	Trends in Health Expenses as a Percentage of GDP.	332
Table 5.	Health Budget as Executed, by Elements, 2003	333
Table 6.	Differences in Healthcare by Region	336
Table 7.	Expenditures in Health by Quintile, 1999	336
Box 1.	The Experience of Extensa.	334
15.	Social Protection	345
I.	Introduction	345
II.	Background: Social Protection in Bolivia.	346
III.	Principal Social Protection Programs and Projects	351
IV.	Principal Issues for the Sector	355
V.	Policy Recommendations	357
	Bibliography	360

Figure 1. Organization of Bolivia’s Social Protection System. 348

Figure 2a. Population with Health Insurance Coverage, 2002 350

Figure 2b. Years of Schooling, 2002 350

Figure 2c. Main Reasons for Not Attending School 350

Table 1. Indicators of Social Protection Expenditures in Bolivia, 1999–2004 347

Table 2. Bolivia: Vulnerability Indicators by Income Quintile. 349

Table 3. Social Protection Programs in Bolivia, 1999–2005 352

Table 4. Principal Social Protection Programs in Bolivia, by Sector, 1999–2004 353

Box 1. Conditional Monetary Transfers: Lessons from International Experience 360

16. The Pension System—Reforms of the Reform 363

I. Background 363

II. Challenges for the Sector 372

Bibliography 383

Figure 1. Institutional Structure of the Pension System in Bolivia 365

Figure 2. Expenses in Pensions, as percent of GDP, 1997–2004. 366

Figure 3. Coverage of the Pension System for the Economically Active Population and for Persons over the Age of 65, in 2002, Approximately 367

Figure 4. Participation of Active Workers in the Pension System by Income Quintile, and Equitability Ratio 368

Figure 5. Projection of Fiscal Pension Expenditures, as a Percentage of GDP, 2005–2060 373

Figure 6. Structure of the Operating Revenue Received by the AFPs, Bolivia 2004 377

Table 1. Return on Equity for AFPs, by Country, 2000–2004 372

17. Water and Sanitation—Serving People Better 385

I. Introduction 385

II. Diagnosis of the Principal Problems and Challenges 387

III. Policy Options for the Sector 399

Bibliography 403

Figure 1. Coverage of Potable Water and Sanitation in Latin America 388

Figure 2. Public Investment in Water and Basic Sanitation, 1997–2004 391

Figure 3. Labor Productivity 392

Figure 4. Percent of Unaccounted Water of the Ten Largest EPSAs 393

Figure 5. Hours of Continuity in Select Regulated EPSAs 393

Figure 6. Water Quality Control in Select Regulated EPSAs 394

Figure 7.	Cost of Water Connections	397
Figure 8.	Cost of Sewage System Connections	397
Figure 9.	Potable Water Rate of the Principal EPSAs— Residential Category	398
Table 1.	Improved Access to Water and Basic Sanitation.....	389
Table 2.	Water and Basic Sanitation Coverage.....	390
18.	Transportation Systems	405
I.	Background	405
II.	The Incomplete Agenda: Key Issues for the Road Sector.....	415
III.	Policy Options.....	418
	Bibliography	420
Table 1.	Movement of Passengers	407
Table 2.	Movement of Cargo.....	407
Table 3.	Public Spending on the National Road Network	411
Box 1.	Bolivia's Road Network	410
19.	Environmental Degradation.....	421
I.	Background.....	421
II.	Waterborne Diseases	424
III.	Air Pollution	425
IV.	Indoor Pollution	426
V.	Natural Disasters.....	427
VI.	Exploitation of Natural Resources.....	428
VII.	Institutional Analysis.....	431
VIII.	Policy Options.....	433
	Bibliography	435
Figure 1.	Natural Protected Areas	423
Figure 2.	Cost of Environmental Degradation	424
Table 1.	Instruments for Sustainable Development.....	422
Table 2.	Bolivian Environmental Legislation: Environmental Quality.....	433
Table 3.	Actions Recommended in the Short Term.....	435
20.	Land Policy	439
I.	The Challenge: Land Policy Implementation that Addresses Rural Poverty, Inequality, and Insecurity	439
II.	Complete Land Regularization and Restore Confidence in Land Institutions.....	442
III.	Adopt Land Distribution Mechanisms Prioritized by Objectives, Employing Multiple Methods	443
IV.	Improve Land Taxation	446
V.	Regularize Land Ownership for Indigenous Peoples	447
VI.	Maintain the Integrity of Protected Areas and Forest Reserves	447

VII. Conclusion	449
Bibliography	449

Part III

Without Corruption and with Civic Participation

21. Toward Better Governance	453
I. Background: The Functionality of Public institutions	454
II. Progress toward a Transparent, Efficient State	455
III. Diagnosis of the Public Administration Reform	461
IV. Policies for an Efficient and Transparent Public Administration	469
Bibliography	477
Annex I	479
Figure 1. National Tax Service: Tax Collections 2000–2005	459
Figure 2. Trends in VAT Tax Evasion	459
Figure 3. The Bolivian Customs Service: Collections 2000–2005	460
Figure 4. Improvement and Expansion of the Roads System	461
Figure 5. Regulatory Quality	463
Figure 6. The Rule of Law	463
Figure 7. Corruption	464
Box 1. International Experiences on Improving the Procurement System	474
 22. The Second Phase of Decentralization	 485
I. Introduction	485
II. Background	486
III. Challenges of Decentralization	488
IV. Policy Options	497
Bibliography	506
Annex	509
Figure 1. Survey Results: Demand for Political Decentralization, March 2005	488
Figure 2. Estimate of the Departmental Prefectures' Autonomy in Decision Making on Budget Matters, 2004	496
Figure A1. The Intergovernmental System and Political Representation Prior to the Prefect Elections in December 2005	509
Table 1. Revenue from Royalties of the Oil and Gas Sector, by Level of Government, Hydrocarbons Act, 2006	488
Table 2. Ratio of Decentralization before and after the Hydrocarbons Act	489
Table 3. Impact of the Hydrocarbons Act on Interdepartmental Transfers, 2005 (Budget) and 2006 (Projections)	491

Table 4.	Transfers and Revenue of Regional Governments in Selected Countries	492
Table 5.	Unsatisfied Needs, by Department, 2001	494
Table 6.	Institutional Agreements in the Health, Education, and Roads Sectors.....	496
Table 7.	Options for Departmental Taxation.....	500
Table 8.	Departmental Taxation and Projected Net Gain in Revenue for the Prefectures, 2006–2010	500
Table 9.	Preparatory Phase to Decentralization of Education, Health, and Roads	503
Table 10.	Financing of Decentralized Expenditures.....	504
Table 11.	Quality of Service Indicators in Selected Sectors	504
23.	Justice and Public Security.....	511
I.	The Justice Sector in Bolivia.....	511
II.	The Justice Sector and Public Security	513
III.	Conclusions and Recommendations	529
	Bibliography.....	531
Annex:	Reform Initiatives of the Justice Sector and International Cooperation	534
Figure 1.	Common Crimes Reported, by Geographic Area	514
Figure 2.	Trends in the Number of Crimes, 1989–2004.....	514
Figure 3.	Most Important Problem—Latin America 2005	517
Figure 4.	Nominal Per Capita Spending on Public Security, 1990–2004 ..	521
Figure 5.	Judicial Budgets (2004) in the Andean Region	526
Figure 6.	Per Capita Judicial Budgets in the Andean Region, 2004	526
Table 1.	Indicators of Extreme Poverty by Year and Geographic Area, 1999–2002	516
Table 2.	Civil Unrest, by Department, 2000–2004.....	519
Table 3.	Reasons for Rural to Urban Migration.....	520
Table 4.	Preliminary Hearings Court: Most Frequent Crimes	522
Table 5.	Municipalities with or without a Court.....	523
Table 6.	State Expenditures by Government Branch	525
Table 7.	Denunciations against Members of the Judiciary	527