

WATER AND DEVELOPMENT

GOOD GOVERNANCE AFTER NEOLIBERALISM

edited by Ronaldo Munck, Narathius Asingwire, Honor Fagan and Consolata Kabonesa

Zed Books
LONDON

CONTENTS

Figures and tables | vii Acknowledgements | ix

Abbreviations and acronyms | x

PART ONE CONTEXT

- Introduction 3
- 1 Water, development and good governance. 11
Ronaldo Munck
- 2 Liquid dynamics: challenges for sustainability in the water domain 30
Lyla Mehta and Synne Movik
- 3 Can IWRM float on a sea of underdevelopment? Reflections on twenty-plus years of 'reform' in sub-Saharan Africa 60
Larry A. Swatuk
- 4 Water politics in eastern and southern Africa 84
Sobona Mtisi and Alan Nicol

PART TWO CASE STUDY

- 5 Integrated water management and social development in Uganda 107
Gloria Macri, Firminus Mugumya and Áine Rickard
- 6 Governance and safe water provisioning in Uganda: theory and practice 135
Firminus Mugumya and Narathius Asingwire
- 7 Woman water keeper? Women's troubled participation in water resource management. 152
Richard Bagonza Asaba and G. Honor Fagan
- 8 Women and water politics: an ethnographic gender perspective 172
Joyce Mpalanyi Magala, Consolata Kabonesa and Anthony Staines
- 9 Understanding adaptive capacity on the ground: a case of agro-pastoralists in a rural parish, Uganda 181
Mavuto D. Tembo

10 Functional sustainability of hand pumps for rural water supply198
Michael Lubwama, Brian Corcoran and Kimmitt Sayers

PART THREE BALANCE SHEET

11 Beyond the MDGS: can the water crisis for the poor finally be resolved?213
David Hemson

Notes on contributors | 246
Index | 251

∴
/