

CHINA'S ECONOMIC REFORM

A study with documents

Christopher Howe, Y.Y. Kueh and Robert Ash

C

RoutledgeCurzon

Taylor & Francis Group

LONDON AND NEW YORK

Contents

Preface	xi
Chapter 1 China's Economic Reform Strategy: Historical Overview	1
Chapter 2 China's Economic Reform Strategy	56
Documents:
2.1 Liu Suiniah and Liu Qungan, 'The lessons of history' (1986)	56
2.2 Liu Guoguang, 'The important issues involved with China's strategy for economic development' (1983)	66
2.3 Xu Chongwen, 'The spirit of the age reflected in Deng Xiaoping's theory on the essence of socialism' (1995)	79
2.4 Liu Guoguang, 'Some issues relating to the theory of the socialist market economy' (1992)	97
2.5 Yueh Shan, 'Deng Liqun criticises Deng Xiaoping, praises Jiang Zemin' (1999)	107
Chapter 3 Creating a Market-oriented Industrial and Economic System	109
Documents:
3.1 /She Jianming, 'The role of the State in the Socialist Market /Economy' (1997)	119
3.2 Duan Yipo, 'The question of assets and property rights in the transformation of State Owned Enterprises to the shareholding system' (1997)	129
3.3 Sun,Xiangyi, 'The emerging new Chinese price system and price control' (1997)	137

Contents

Chapter 4 Industrial Change and Technological Upgrading	146
Documents:
4.1 Shan Shanhua et al. 'The iron and steel industry. Some issues to be considered in changing the pattern of growth in the Ninth Five Year Plan' (1996)	155
4.2 Li Changming, 'China's textile industry: from size to strength' (1997)	165
4.3 Zhao Ying, 'The automobile industry: on the threshold of a brilliant turn' (1997)	181
4.4 Xie Xiaohua, 'The burgeoning electronics industry' (1997)	198
4.5 Jiang Lian, 'Reinforcing the key role of State Owned Enterprises in the industrialisation of science and technology' (1995)	208
Chapter 5 China's Agriculture during the Period of Reform	217
Documents:
I 5.1) Wu Xiang, 'Why did China's reforms start in the countryside?' ^ - ' (1994)	232
5.2 Sun Zhonghua and Li Shaohua, 'Learning from Comrade Deng Xiaoping's exposition of agricultural problems' (1997)	241
5.3) Zhang Keyun, 'A study of the regional development and distribution of Chinese agriculture' (1995)	254
5.4 Jiang Li 'Lessons from the four major reforms of the rural land system' (1994)	263
5.5 Research Group for Fixed Capital Investment in Agriculture, 'A brief overview of China's strategy for fixed capital investment in agriculture' (1993)	270
5.6 Fang Yan, 'China throws itself into international competition: agriculture faces a new challenge' (1993)	278
5.7 Fan Gang, 'Short-term policies and long-term strategies for solving China's grain supply problems' (1995)	284
Chapter 6 Population and Labour	291
Documents:
6.1 Tian Xueyuan, 'Population problems under market economic conditions and scientific research into population' (1994)	302
6.2 Xie Leiguang and Cheng Gang, 'The emergence of DINKS households in China and a simple analysis of the reasons behind their development' (1995)	314
6.3 Zhu Jintang, 'Population in the Northwest over forty years' (1991)	321

Contents

6.4	Li Quanlin, 'The population requirements of the social and economic development of the Kunshan region until the year 2000, and strategies to accommodate them' (1995)	329
6.5	Liu Yongren, 'Some tentative ideas on the reform of China's labour system' (1985)	336
6.6	Yang Kuifu, 'Integrating family planning and poverty relief (1996)	342
	Chapter 7 China's Foreign Economic Relations	346
	Documents:
7.1	Sun Guangxiang, 'A strategy for upgrading exports structure' (1997)	356
7.2	Xu Wenhai and Zhang Peiji, 'Promoting exports of whole plant' (1997)	361
7.3	Zhen Guowei, 'The import demand for developing the machine building industry' (1997)	364
7.4	Xia Xiaolin and Sun Anqin, 'Whither the Special Economic Zones?' (1995)	377
7.5	Li Haijian, 'Integrating FDI within the domestic economy' (1997)	387
	Bibliography	399