

Irregular Migrants in Belgium and the Netherlands

Aspirations and Incorporation

Masja van Meeteren

IMISCOE Research

Amsterdam University Press

Content

Acknowledgements	11
1 Irregular Migration as a Fact of Life	13
1.1 Irregular migration as a common feature of Western economies	13
1.2 Studying the lives of irregular migrants	15
1.3 Irregular migrants: Who are they?	17
1.4 Incorporation, assimilation, integration	20
2 Beyond Victims and Communities	23
Bringing in aspirations
2.1 Current research practice on incorporation	23
2.2 Common perspective focused on survival	24
2.3 Social mobility and incorporation	27
2.4 Comparative designs based on migration motives	34
2.5 Bringing aspirations in	37
3 Studying Aspirations	45
3.1 Grounded theory approach	45
3.2 Researching the lives of irregular migrants	47
3.3 Difficulties in studying irregular migrants	55
4 Immigration Policies in Belgium and the Netherlands	61
4.1 Introduction	61
4.2 History	62
4.3 External control policies	63
4.4 Internal control policies	66
4.5 Legalisation	72
4.6 Research context: Belgium and the Netherlands	78
5 Investment, Settlement and Legalisation Aspirations	81
5.1 Three types of aspirations	81
5.2 Where do they come from?	87
5.3 Changing aspirations	93
5.4 Aspirations and strategies	95
5.5 From aspirations to incorporation	96

6	Living Different Dreams (I)	97
	Aspirations and functional incorporation
6.1	Introduction	97
6.2	Housing	98
6.3	Employment	105
6.4	Other sources of income and assistance	122
6.5	Changing aspirations	139
6.6	Aspirations and functional incorporation	140
7	Living Different Dreams (II)	143
	Aspirations and social incorporation
7.1	Introduction	143
7.2	Leisure time	145
7.3	Social contacts	152
7.4	Shifts in aspirations	159
7.5	Aspirations and social incorporation	162
8	Aspirations and Transnational Activities	165
8.1	Introduction	165
8.2	Economic transnational activities	167
8.3	Social transnational activities	170
8.4	Political transnational activities	176
8.5	Shifts in aspirations	179
8.6	Aspirations and transnational activities	180
9	Striving for a Better Position	183
	Aspirations and the role of economic, cultural and social capital
9.1	Introduction	183
9.2	Forms of capital	184
9.3	Required forms of capital for realisation of aspirations	186
9.4	Shifts in aspirations	197
9.5	Aspirations and capital	198
10	Assessing a New Perspective	201
10.1	Analysing aspirations: The merits	201
10.2	Implications	211
10.3	Moving forward	218

Appendices		221
Appendix 1	Semi-structured interviews: Overview of respondent characteristics	221
Appendix 2	In-depth interviews with irregular migrants: Overview of respondent characteristics	224
Appendix 3	Organisations interviewed	225
References		227