Festivals, Tourism and Social Change
Remaking Worlds

Edited by
David Picard and Mike Robinson

CHANNEL VIEW PUBLICATIONS
Clevedon • Buffalo • Toronto
Contents

Acknowledgements ............................................................... vii
The Contributors ............................................................. viii

1 Remaking Worlds: Festivals, Tourism and Change
  David Picard and Mike Robinson ........................................ 1
2 La Cavalcata Sarda: Performing Identities in a Contemporary Sardinian Festival
  hide Azara and David Crouch ........................................... 32
3 Gardening the Past and Being in the World: A Popular Celebration of the Abolition of Slavery in La Reunion
  David Picard ................................................................. 46
4 Becoming All Indian: Gauchos, Pachamama Queens and Tourists in the Remaking of an Andean Festival
  Patricia Mathews-Salazar .................................................. 71
5 The 'Freedom of the Slaves to Walk the Streets': Celebration, Spontaneity and Revelry versus Logistics at the Notting Hill Carnival
  Angela Burr ................................................................. 84
6 The Making of Community Identity through Historic Festive Practice: The Case of Ashbourne Royal Shrovetide Football
  Scott McCabe ................................................................. 99
7 'Days of Radunica': A Street Festival in the Croatian Town of Split
  Anka Misetic and Ines Sabotic ........................................... 119
8 Enhancing Vitality or Compromising Integrity? Festivals, Tourism and the Complexities of Performing Culture
  Melanie Smith and Kathryn Forest ...................................... 133
Creating the 'Rainbow Nation': The National Women's Art Festival in Durban, South Africa
Sabine Marschall ........................................ 152

Kyrgyzstan's Manas Epos Millennium Celebrations: Post-Colonial Resurgence of Turkic Culture and the Marketing of Cultural Tourism
Karen Thompson, Peter Schofield, Nicola Foster and Gulnara Bakieva 172

The Camp Oven Festival and Australian Identity
Shirley Chappel and Gregory Loades ........................................ 191

Christmas Markets in the Tyrolean Alps: Representing Regional Traditions in a Newly Created World of Christmas
Oliver Haid ........................................ 209

The Placeless Festival: Identity and Place in the Post-Modern Festival
Nicola E. MacLeod ........................................ 222

Gay and Lesbian Festivals: Tourism in the Change from Politics to Party
Howard L Hughes ........................................ 238

Mobility, Diaspora and the Hybridisation of Festivity: The Case of the Edinburgh Mela
Elizabeth Carnegie and Melanie Smith ........................................ 255

Taking Quebec City: Protest, Carnival and Tourism at the Summit of the Americas
Kirsty Robertson ........................................ 269

Index ........................................ 284