

A Cultural History of Climate Change

Edited by Tom Bristow and
Thomas H. Ford

 Routledge
Taylor & Francis Group
LONDON AND NEW YORK

earthscan
from Routledge

Contents

List of figures	ix
List of contributors	xi
Acknowledgements	xv

Foreword	xvii
DIPESH CHAKRABARTY

Climates of history, cultures of climate	1
TOM BRISTOW AND THOMAS H. FORD

PART I

Climates of history	15
----------------------------	-----------

1 Voices of endurance: climate and the power of oral history	17
DEB ANDERSON

2 Rethinking seasons: changing climate, changing time	38
CHRIS O'BRIEN

3 The terrestrial envelope: Joseph Fourier's geological speculation	55
JEROME WHITINGTON

4 Melancholy and the continent of fire	72
TOM BRISTOW AND ANDREA WITCOMB

5 The Anthropocene and the long seventeenth century: 1550–1750	87
LINDA WILLIAMS

PART II

Climates of writing 109

- 6 Change beyond belief: fictions of (the) Enlightenment and Simpson's 'climate change suite' 111

JAYNE LEWIS

- 7 Fuels and humans, bios and *zōē 128

KAREN PINKUS

- 8 The 'foreign grave' motif in Victorian medicine and literature 138

ROSLYN JOLLY

- 9 Climate change and literary history 157

THOMAS H. FORD

PART III

Climates of politics 175

- 10 Climate change: politics, excess, sovereignty 177

NICK MANSFIELD

- 11 Para-religions of climate change: humanity, eco-nihilism, apocalypse 192

S. ROMI MUKHERJEE

- 12 Litigation, activism, and the paradox of lawfulness in an age of climate change 211

NICOLE ROGERS

- 13 This is not my beautiful biosphere 229

TIMOTHY MORTON

- Index* 239