

its Limits in Central and Eastern Europe

Property Rights in Transition

Hella Engerer

Senior Researcher

German Institute for Economic Research

Jierlin

Germany

Contents

List of Tables	vii
General Editors' Foreword	viii
Preface	x
Part I Introduction	1
Part II Property Rights in Philosophy and Economics	9
1 Theories of Property in Classical Philosophy	14
1.1 Contractarianism and theories of natural law	16
1.2 Utilitarian interpretations '	30
1.3 Philosophical stimuli on property rights in transition	40
2 The Neoclassical Definition of Property	48
2.1 Property rights and privatization	49
2.2 Demsetz' analysis of the changes of property rights	55
2.3 Buchanan's contractarian version of the emergence of property rights	57
2.4 North's approach to an explanation of institutional change	66
2.5 Central and Eastern Europe as area of application	70
3 The Monetary Theory of Private Property	74
3.1 From the coherence of monetary and planned economy to transition	74
3.2 Transformation of property in formerly planned economies	80
4 The Genesis and Changes of Property as Portrayed by Old Institutionalists	83
4.1 Commons: property rights as concerted action for settling conflicts	84
4.2 Veblen's theory of the leisure class: property as a trophy	94
4.3 Comments on property reform in Central and Eastern Europe	98
5 Property as an Institution: Summary and Prospect	102
Part III Property Rights in Planned Economies	107
6 Legal Types of Property and Ownership Guarantee	110

7	Ownership of the Means of Production	114
7.1	Development of the private and "socialist" sectors as mirrored in statistics	114
7.2	Property and economic reform	116
7.3	Private activities in planned economies	119
7.4	Increasing enterprise autonomy, quasi-privatization and spontaneous privatization	124
8	Employment Guarantee and Social Security	136
9	Property Erosion and the Initial Situation before Transformation	141
Part IV	Property Rights in Transition	145
10	The Course of Transformation	149
10.1	Economic development as mirrored in statistics	149
10.2	The transformation crisis: reasons and specific characteristics of the countries	152
11	The Question of Property	157
12	The Legal Solution	163
12.1	Codified law: shortcomings and contradictions	164
12.2	Private (il)legal law-making	174
13	The Economic Patent Remedy: Privatization "from Above"	178
13.1	The privatization debate: the British model versus voucher privatization	180
13.2	The problem of acceptance	186
13.3	Privatization in the individual countries	188
13.4	Evaluation of privatization in country comparison	226
14	The Spontaneous Solution: Bottom-up Privatization	235
14.1	Measuring bottom-up privatization	236
14.2	Problems and promotion of small and medium-sized enterprises	238
Part V	Summary and Prospects	245
	Appendix: Main Economic Indicators	253
	Notes	261
	~ Bibliography	293
	Index	313