

LABOR AND EMPLOYMENT
RELATIONS ASSOCIATION SERIES

Employee Ownership and Shared Capitalism

New Directions in Research

EDITED BY
Edward J. Carberry

CONTENTS

- Chapter 1 — Employee Ownership and Shared Capitalism:
Assessing the Experience, Research, and Policy Implications 1
Edward J. Carberry

Section I: Organized Labor and Shared Capitalism

- Chapter 2 — Solidarity and Sharing: Unions and Shared Capitalism 27
John E. McCarthy, Paula B. Voos, Adrienne E. Eaton,
Douglas L. Kruse, and Joseph R. Blasi
- Chapter 3 — Improving the Quality of Home Health Aide Jobs:
A Collaboration Between Organized Labor and a Worker Cooperative 59
Daphne Perkins Berry and Stu Schneider
- Chapter 4 — Shared Capitalism, Corporate Disclosure, and Management's Incentive to Signal a Positive Outlook 91
Francesco Bova

Section II: New Theoretical and Empirical Approaches

- Chapter 5 — Employee Ownership, Democratic Control, and Working-Class Empowerment 113
Joan S.M. Meyers
- Chapter 6 — An Empirical Analysis of Risk Preferences,
Compensation Risk, and Employee Outcomes 147
Fidan Ana Kurtulus, Douglas L. Kruse, and Joseph R. Blasi

Chapter 7 — Employee Ownership and Corporate Performance: Toward Unlocking the Black Box	177
Marco Caramelli
Chapter 8 — The Determinants and Consequences of Broad-Based Stock Option Plans: The View from Economics and Finance	211
Serdar Aldatmaz and Paige Ouimet
Section III: Assessing the Experience of Shared Capitalism in Different National Contexts
Chapter 9 — Assessing Mondragon: Stability and Managed Change in the Face of Globalization	241
Saioa Arando, Fred Freundlich, Monica Gago, Derek C. Jones, and Takao Kato
Chapter 10 — Ohio's ESOP Companies Through Two Decades: Growing Up or Growing Old?	273
John Logue and Jacquelyn Yates
Chapter 11 — Employee Ownership in Britain: Diverse Forms, Diverse Antecedents	311
Andrew Pendleton
About the Contributors	341