

Stefano Bianca

URBAN FORM IN THE ARAB WORLD

PAST AND PRESENT

ORL-Schriften 46/2000

Table of Contents

Preface	7
1. Introduction: The Subject and the Approach	9
Part I
The Historic Arab-Islamic City
2. Basic Principles of Islam and their Social, Spatial and Artistic Implications	23
3. Environmental, Cultural and Historic Shaping Factors of Islamic Architecture	49
4. Components of Urban Form I: The Residential Unit	73
5. Components of Urban Form II: The Mosque and Related Welfare Buildings	101
6. Components of Urban Form III: Trade and Production Structures	123
7. The Deep Structure of the Traditional Urban Fabric	137
Part II
The Clash between Tradition and Modernity
8. The Impact of Western Models on the Contemporary Development Patterns of Historic Muslim Cities	161
9. Structural Conflicts between Traditional Islamic Concepts and Modern Western Planning Methods	185
Part III
Case Studies: Interventions in the Historic Fabric
10. Case Study I: The Holy Cities of Islam - The Impact of Mass Transportation and Rapid Urban Change	219
11. Case Study II: Baghdad - an Arab Metropolis between Conservation and Redevelopment	249
12. Case Study III: Fez - Protecting the Integrity of the Historic Fabric	271
13. Case Study IV: Aleppo - Urban Repair of a Destroyed Historic District	303
14. Conclusion - Towards the Rehabilitation of Historic Muslim Cities	325
Appendix: Sources of Illustrations - Bibliographical Notes	343