Growth Theory

AN EXPOSITION

Second Edition

ROBERT M. SOLOW

The Radcliffe Lectures Delivered in the University of Warwick 1969

> Nobel Prize Lecture 1987

The Siena Lectures Delivered in the University of Siena 1992

OXFORD UNIVERSITY PRESS 2000

Contents

| | PREFACE | | vii |
|-----|--|---|-----|
| | Nobel Lecture, December 8, 1987: | | |
| | Growth Theory and After | | ix |
| 1. | Characteristics of Steady States | | 1 |
| 2. | A Variable Capital/Output Ratio | | 16 |
| 3. | A Model without Direct Substitution | | 36 |
| 4. | A Model with Two Assets | | 53 |
| 5. | Economic Policy in a Growth Model - | N | 71 |
| 6. | Aspects of Economic Policy | | 85 |
| | Intermezzo | | 97 |
| 7. | The Standard Model Once More | | 106 |
| 8. | Human Capital: The Lucas Model | | 122 |
| 9. | Endogenous Technology: The Romer Model | | 144 |
| 10. | New Consumer Goods: Grossman and Helpman | | 155 |
| 11. | Schumpeterian Ideas: Aghion and Howitt | | 172 |
| 12. | Lessons and Suggestions for Aggregative | | |
| | Growth Theory | | 180 |
| | REFERENCES | | 187 |