

The Geography of Small Firm Innovation

by

Grant Black

*Andrew Young School of Policy Studies
Georgia State University, Atlanta, Georgia*

Kluwer Academic Publishers

Boston/ New York/Dordrecht

CONTENTS

Foreword	xv
Acknowledgements	xvii
1 Introduction	1
2 The Small Business Innovation Research Program	7
3 Geography and Innovation: The Role of Knowledge Spillovers and Agglomeration	27
4 Evaluating Innovative Activity	37
5 Metropolitan SBIR Activity in the 1990s	53
6 Agency Effects in Federally Funded Innovation	63
7 Metropolitan Patent Activity in the 1990s	75
8 Conclusion	95
Appendix A: Industries Comprising the High Technology Sector	105
Appendix B: Geographic Distribution of Innovation and Indicators of the Technological Infrastructure in 1990-95	111
Appendix C: SBIR Phase II Awards by Metropolitan Area	125
Appendix D: Supplemental Evidence of Funding Agency Effects	131
Appendix E: Linking Standard Industrial Classifications to Patent Classifications	147
Appendix F: Utility Patents by Metropolitan Area	149
Notes	157
References	161
Index	175