
Routledge Companion to Real Estate Development

Edited by Graham Squires, Erwin Heurkens and Richard Peiser

Contents

List of figures	ix
List of tables	xii
Contributors	xiv
Acknowledgments	xxii
1 Real estate development: an overview Graham Squires, Erwin Heurkens, and Richard Peiser	1
PART I
Social and spatial impact of real estate development	11
2 Leveraging property values for metro railway development in Hong Kong: experiences and lessons Bo-sin Tang	13
3 Teardowns and reinvestment in the inner-ring suburbs of Chicago Suzanne Lanyi Charles	28
4 Public real estate development projects and urban transformation: the case of flagship projects Nadia Alaily-Mattar, Johannes Dreher, Fabian Wenner, and Alain Thierstein	43
PART II
Markets and economics of real estate development	57
5 Investment and development behavior following the Great Recession Raymond G. Torto	59
6 Land use policies and markets in some selected African countries Moses M. Kusiluka, Sophia M. Kongela, and Karl-Werner Schulte	70

Contents

7	Residential prices, housing development, and construction costs Paloma Tàltavull de La Paz and Raul Pérez	80
8	Retail market analysis for development projects: coping with new frontiers in retailing Petros Sivitanides	94
PART III
Organization and management of real estate development		105
9	Private sector-led urban development: characteristics, typologies, and practices Erwin Heurkens	107
10	Building and leading high performance real estate companies Frank Apeseche	122
11	Strategic management systems for real estate development Paul H. K. Ho	138
12	Organizing public-private partnerships for real estate development through urban finance innovation Michael Nadler	153
13	The self-organizing city: an analysis of the institutionalization of organic urban development in the Netherlands Edwin Buitelaar, Erwin Grommen, and Erwin van der Krabben	169
PART IV
Finance and investment for real estate development		183
14	A historical evolutionary and cyclical perspective on models of development finance Colin Jones	185
15	The future of finance and investment for real estate development and investment: changing approach for a new structural era Christopher B. Leinberger	196
16	Mechanisms for financing affordable housing development Graham Squires	207

17	The value investment approach to real estate development: a case study from Berlin, Germany Stephan Bone-Winkel and Karim Rochdi	218
PART V
	Environment and sustainability in real estate development	233
18	Sustainable transformation in real estate developments through conversions Hilde Remøy and Sara Wilkinson	235
19	Sustainability of office buildings: lessons learned from academic and professional research Sofia Dermisi	247
20	Post-disaster recovery for real estate development: an analysis of multi-family investment from the perspective of a low income housing tax credit (LIHTC) project Elaine Worzala and V. Lynn Hammett	260
21	Drivers and opportunities of sustainability in real estate development Sven Bienert and Rogerio Santovito	274
22	The foundations of sustainability in real estate markets Richard Reed	294
PART VI
	Design in real estate development	311
23	Actor perceptions of good design for real estate development Peter Hendee Brown	313
24	Good design for real estate development: moving beyond the generic city Alex Duval	327
25	The design of real estate: a framework for value creation Bing Wang	338
PART VII
	Land use policy and governance of real estate development	353
26	Developing vibrant centers: the public-private development perspective Emil Malizia	355

Contents

27	The challenges for effective governance of real estate development in a future urban world Kathy Pain	370
28	Local politics, planning, land use controls, and real estate development John McDonald	385
29	Trends in land use and government policy affecting real estate development in the USA David Hamilton and Richard Peiser	396
	Index	410