

The Indian Economy in Transition

Globalization, Capitalism and Development

Anjan Chakrabarti
Anup Dhar
Byasdeb Dasgupta

CAMBRIDGE
UNIVERSITY PRESS

Contents

| | |
|--|-----|
| Preface | vii |
| Introduction | ix |
| Chapter I : The Condition of the Working Class in Contemporary India | 1 |
| Chapter II : Capitalism: The 'Delusive Appearance of Things' | 42 |
| Chapter III : Post-colonial Development and 'The Thought of the Outside' | 67 |
| Chapter IV : The Word and the World of Neo-liberalism | 98 |
| Chapter V : The Script of Transition: Between the Spectral and the Secret Thereof | 145 |
| Chapter VI : From Self-reliance to Neo-liberalism: The Political Economy of 'Reform' (1991–2014) | 168 |
| Chapter VII : Global Capitalism and World of the Third: The Emergent Cartography of the Indian Economy | 225 |
| Chapter VIII : Inclusive Development, State and Violence | 289 |
| Chapter IX : From Economic Crisis to Transition Crisis | 339 |
| Conclusion | 383 |
| Bibliography | 387 |
| Author Index | 407 |
| Subject Index | 413 |