

*Financial Sector
Policy for Developing Countries*

edited by
Gerard Caprio
Patrick Honohan
Dimitri Vittas

A copublication of the World Bank and Oxford University Press

Contents

Foreword	Cesare Calari	xi
PART I DESIGNING POLICY FOR THE FINANCIAL SYSTEM
Looking Back at the World Bank's World Development Report 1989: Finance and Development	Millard F. Long	3
From Good Bankers to Bad Bankers Aristdbulo de Juan		19
Impact of Early Financial Growth Strategies on Financial Structures and Problems in Three Asian Crisis-Countries	David C. Cole	31
Risk Management and Stable Financial Structures for LDC, Inc.	Yoon Je Cbo and Andrew Sheng	49
Eggs in Too Few Baskets: The Impact of Loan Concentration on Bank-Sector Systemic Risk	Berry K. Wilson and Gerard Caprio	73
PART II INTERNATIONAL AND INTERSECTORAL LINKAGES
Policy for Small Financial Systems Biagio Bossone, Patrick Honohan, and Millard F. hong		95
Dollarization, Private and Official: Issues, Benefits, and Costs	James A. Hanson	129

Policies to Promote Saving for Retirement	171
Dimitri Vittas
Financial Networks and Banking Policy	205
Patrick Honohan and Dimitri Vittas

PART III TAKING THE LONGER VIEW

Retirement Reading for Sophisticated Bankers	229
Charles P. Kindleberger	