Information Modeling in the New Millennium

Table of Contents

Preface.....	i
--------------	---

Section One: Foundations

Chapter 1
Information Modeling in the Internet Age—Challenges, Issues and Research Directions.....	1
Keng Siau, University of Nebraska-Lincoln, Lincoln, USA
Matti Rossi, Helsinki School of Economics, Finland

Chapter 2
Coherent, Consistent and Comprehensive Modeling of Communication, Information, Action and Organization.....	9
Jan Dietz, Delft University, The Netherlands

Chapter 3
Toward an Autopoietic Approach for Information Systems Development.....	34
El-Sayed Abou-Zeid, Concordia University, Canada

Chapter 4
Conceptual Modeling Process and the Notion of a Concept.....	53
Pramila Gupta, Central Queensland University, Australia
James A. Sykes, Swinburne University of Technology, Australia

Section Two: Language and Ontological Perspectives

Chapter 5
A Genre-Based Method for Information Systems Planning.....	70
Tero Pdivrinta, Veikko Halttunen and Past Tyrvdinen
University of Jyvdskyl, Finland

Chapter 6
A Language/Action Based Approach to Information Modeling.....	94
Paul Johannesson, Stockholm University, Sweden

Chapter 7
Business Action and Information Modeling —
The Task of the New Millennium.....	110
Par Agerfalk, Orebro University, Sweden
Goran Goldkuhl, Linkoping University, Sweden

Chapter 8
An Environment for Managing Enterprise Domain Ontology.....	137
Zhan Cui, Michael Cox and Dean Jones
Intelligent Business Systems Research, UK

Section Three: Object Oriented Modeling and its Extensions

Chapter 9
Integrating Fact-Oriented Modeling with
Object-Oriented Modeling.....	150
Terry Halpin, Microsoft Corporation, USA

Chapter 10
On the Convergence of Analysis and Design Methods for
Multi-Agent, Component-Based and Object-Oriented Systems.	167
Bernard Moulin, Laval University, Canada

Chapter 11
An Information Management Environment Based on the
Model of Object Primitives_____	189
Nektarios Georgalas, BT Labs, UK

Chapter 12
Mapping UML Techniques to Design Activities.....	199
Ashley Bush and Sandeep Purao
Georgia State University, USA

Chapter 13
Information System Design Based on Reuse of
Conceptual Components.....	219
P. Bertolazzi, M.G. Fugini and B. Pernici
IASI-CNR, Milano

Section Four: Applied Information Modeling

Chapter 14
A Unifying Translation of Natural Language Patterns
to Object and Process Modeling.....	231
Alexandra Galatescu, National Institute for R&D in
Informatics, Romania

Chapter 15
Information Models for Document Engineering.....	259
James Thorn, RMIT University, Australia
Chapter 16
Designing Model-Based Intelligent Dialogue Systems.....	268
Dina Goren-Bar
Ben-Gurion University of the Negev, Israel
Chapter 17
Event Modeling.....	285
Lars Bakgaard, Arhus School of Business, Denmark
Chapter 18
From Information Model to Controllable Implementation.....	303
Hilary Kahn and Nick P Filer
University of Manchester, UK
Chapter 19
Metrics For Managing Quality in Information Modeling.....	324
Mario Piattini, Marcela Genero, Coral Calero,
Macario Polo, Francisco Ruiz, Universidad de Castilla-La
Mancha, Spain
Chapter 20
Spatial and Topological Data Models.....	345
Ying Deng and Peter Revesz
University of Nebraska - Lincoln, USA

Section Five: Hypermedia and Web Modeling

Chapter 21
Requirements for Web Engineering Methodologies.....	360
Harri Oinas-Kukkonen, Toni Alatalo, Jouko Kaasila,
Henri Kiveld, Sami Sivunen
University of Oulu, Finland
Chapter 22
HMT: Modeling Interactive and Adaptive
Hypermedia Applications.....	383
Peter Zoller, FORWISS - Germany

Chapter 23
Modeling of Customers' Interactive Control of Service Processes....	406
Heiko Ludwig
IBM Research, Zurich Research Laboratory, Switzerland
Chapter 24
Conceptual Web Site Modeling.....	427
Bernhard Strauch and Robert Winter
University of St. Gallen, Switzerland
Chapter 25
Audience-Driven Web Design.....	442
Olga De Troyer, Vrije Universiteit Brussel, Belgium
Chapter 26
Object-Oriented Web Applications Modeling.....	463
Gustavo Rossi, LIFIA-UNLP, La Plata, Argentina
Daniel Schwabe, PUC-Rio, Brazil
Chapter 27
A Systematic Relationship Analysis for Modeling
Information Domains.....	485
Jonhee Yoo, Rutgers University, USA
Michael Bieber, New Jersey Institute of Technology, USA
Author Biographies.....	502
Index.....	511
