

The Innovation Policy of the European Union

From Government to Governance

Susaiia Borrás

Associate Professor of European Politics, Department of Social Sciences, Roskilde University, Denmark

Edward Elgar &
Cheltenham, UK • Northampton MA, USA

Contents

List of figures	vii
List of tables	ix
Preface and acknowledgements	xi
List of abbreviations	xiii
Introduction	1
1 Analysing the innovation policy of the European Union	10
2 Research and knowledge production	25
3 The changing regime of intellectual property rights	74
4 Building the information society	113
5 The world of standards	142
6 Risk and the social sustainability of innovation	180
7 Conclusion	211
Index	225