

Primary Dealers in Government Securities

Marco Arnone and Piero Ugolini

International Monetary Fund
Washington, DC

C

Contents

| | |
|--|-----------|
| Preface | v |
| Chapter 1. Introduction | 1 |
| Chapter 2. Definition and Findings | 2 |
| Chapter 3. Rationale for a Preliminary Dealer System | 4 |
| Chapter 4. Implications of Establishing a Primary Dealer System | 6 |
| Chapter 5. Market Structure and Development | 8 |
| A. Financial Development | 8 |
| B. Market Structure | 9 |
| C. System Design in the Course of Financial Development | 10 |
| Chapter 6. Key Prerequisites for a Primary Dealer System | 12 |
| Chapter 7. Operational Issues in Establishing a Primary Dealer System | 15 |
| A. Selection Criteria | 16 |
| B. Obligations | 19 |
| C. Privileges | 27 |
| D. Foreign Institutions as Primary Dealers | 34 |
| E. Supervision | 37 |
| F. Other Operational Considerations and Legal Aspects | 41 |
| Chapter 8. Evidence from the Survey | 45 |
| A. Reported Advantages and Disadvantages | 46 |
| B. Primary Dealers and Stages of Development | 53 |
| Appendix 1. Summary of Primary Dealer System Characteristics | 56 |
| Appendix 2. Complete Survey Results by Country | 58 |
| Bibliography | 91 |