

EUROPEAN HOUSING FINANCE

Single market or mosaic?

Edited by Will Bartlett and Glen Bramley

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements	vii
List of contributors	viii
introduction	Integration, innovation and instability in European housing finance Will Bartlett and Glen Bromley 1
part one:	European integration and housing finance
one	The opening up of UK housing finance Christine Whitehead 19
two	The impact of the single European market on housing finance in the UK Mark Boleat 39
three	The single market: legal and market implications for housing finance Mark Stephens 46
four	Housing finance systems: a Nordic perspective Katri Kosonen 66
part two:	Financial deregulation and instability
five	European financial liberalisation and property markets Michael Ball 87
six	Negative equity: the nature and incidence of Britain's latest housing crisis Daniel Dorling 116

vi Contents

seven	The collapse of the Swedish housing market Peter Englund	136
part three: Developing the institutions of housing finance
eight	The new housing policy programme in Spain Montserrat Pareja and Pere Riera	165
nine	The housing market and housing finance in Sweden Peter Bengtsson	187
ten	Housing finance in Turkey during the last decade AH Turel	199
eleven	Housing finance development in Slovakia Peter Michalovic	216
part four: Innovation in finance for social housing
twelve	Recent developments in the use of private finance for social housing in England Jeffrey Thompson	229
thirteen	Coping with some of the new risks of social housing in England Michael Pryke	245
fourteen	The dynamic cost principle in the social rented sector in the Netherlands Johan Conijn	262
Index		274