

CENTRE FOR REGIONAL STUDIES
OF HUNGARIAN ACADEMY OF SCIENCES

DISCUSSION PAPERS

No. 55

The Banking Functions of the Hungarian Urban Network in the Early 20th Century

b y
ZoltanGAL

•'

Series editor
Zoltan GAL

Pecs
2006

CONTENTS

1	Introduction.....	7
2	The dimension of the Hungarian banking system in the age of the Dual Monarchy (1867-1918).....	8
2.1	The institutional setting of the banking system.....	8
2.2	The size of the banking network.....	11
2.3	Budapest: dominance of the national banking centre.....	12
3	Regional expansion of banking innovations.....	16
3.1	The golden age of local unit banking.....	16
3.2	Gradual transition from local to nation-wide branch banking.....	16
3.2.1	Building respondent bank networks.....	16
3.2.2	The rise of branch networks.....	17
3.3	Regional differences in the Hungarian banking system.....	22
3.3.1	Measuring banking network density.....	22
3.3.2	The geographical distribution of banking stocks and flows.....	29
4	The banking functions of the urban network in the early 20* century.....	42
4.1	Surveying the central-place bankig functions of cities.....	42
4.2	Central places of the Hungarian banking network.....	48
4.2.1	The hierarchical ranking of cities by bank deposit distribution.....	48
4.2.2	Hierarchical ranking of cities by assets distribution.....	57
5	Outlook.....	65
	References.....	66