

Labor Economics

Wages, Employment, and Trade Unionism

F. RAY MARSHALL

U.S. Secretary of Labor

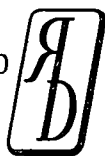

ALLAN G. KING

The University of Texas at Austin

VERNON M. BRIGGS, JR.

Cornell University

1980

Fourth Edition

RICHARD D. IRWIN, INC. Homewood, Illinois 60430
Irwin-Dorsey Limited Georgetown, Ontario L7G 4B3

Contents

Part I
INTRODUCTION	1
1. The Study of Labor Economics	3
Part II
COMPARATIVE LABOR MOVEMENTS	9
2. Labor and Industrialization	11
The Nature of Industrializing Societies: Unity and Diversity in Industrialization. Industrializing Elites. Economic Characteristics and Labor Problems of Industrial Societies. Industrial Work Rules. The Labor Organizations of the Preindustrial Era. Labor Movements in Developing Countries: Contrasts with Developed Countries. Do Unions Retard Economic Development? Conclusions on Unions in Developing Countries.
3. Theories of Labor Movements	29
The Views of Labor Theorists: The Marxists. The Webbs. John R. Commons. Selig Perlman. Kerr, Dunlop, Harbison, and Myers. The Nature of Protest. John T. Dunlop. Conclusions: The Origin of Labor Movements. Patterns of Growth. The Individual Worker's Relationship to the Union. The Ultimate Goals of Labor Movements.

4. The Development of Trade Unionism in the United States 49

Pre-Revolutionary Labor: The Beginning Years and the Rise of Political Unionism. Utopianism. The Rise of National Unions. The Federation Movement and Uplift Reform Unionism. The Advent of Business Unionism. Unionism and the Law: The Courts. Antitrust Laws. Yellow-Dog Contracts. Industrial Unions: The Challenge of Radical Unionism. World War I and the Postwar Reaction: The 1919 Steel Strike. Economic Conditions. Employer Policies of Union Opposition. The New Deal: New Deal Philosophy. The NIRA. Favorable Court Decisions. Formation of the CIO. Organization of the Steel Industry. Other Organizing Campaigns. The AFL's Response. Conclusions on the New Deal Period. Unions During World War II.

5. Modern-Day Unionism in the United States 87

The Signs of Change in Labor Policy. The AFL-CIO Merger: Political Reasons for the Merger. Union Membership Problems. Decline in Disagreement over Structure. Organizational and Leadership Problems. Structure of the AFL-CIO: Unaffiliated Unions. The Government of Trade Unions. Union Finances. The Issue of Membership Trends: White-Collar Workers, Government Employees. Technical and Scientific Employees. The Future of White-Collar Unionism. Agricultural Workers. Public Policy with Respect to Collective Bargaining by Agricultural Workers. Geographical Distribution of Union Members. Communists in the American Labor Movement. Corruption and Racketeering: Conclusions on Racketeering and Improper Activities. Critique of American Unions. Concluding Observations.

6. European Labor Movements 131

Great Britain: The Labour Party. The British Industrial Relations System. Legal Status. Unions and National Economic Policy. Union Structure. Nature and Scope of Bargaining. Workers' Councils. Union Strength. Dispute Settlement. Germany: Early Political Labor Movement. Developments during the Interwar Period. Reorganization after World War II. Collective Bargaining. Works Council. Codetermination. Dispute Settlement Procedures. The Wage-Price Problem. France: The French Unions. Reasons for Communist Domination of Unions in France. Syndicalism. The Weakness of Collective Bargaining. Scandinavia: Political Parties. Wage Policies. The Soviet Union: Historical Background. Union Functions. Structure. Lenin on the Trade Unions.

Part III

WAGES, EMPLOYMENT, AND COLLECTIVE BARGAINING

169

7. The Economic Analysis of Labor Markets 171

Evaluating the Performance of Labor Markets. The Pricing and Allocation of Labor. Supply and Demand. Modifications of the Simple Supply and Demand Framework.

8. The Supply of Labor 182

The Labor Force. Labor Force Trends. Population: The Natural Rate of Population Increase. Net Migration. Labor Force Participation: Labor Force Participation, Business Cycles, and Hidden Unemployment. The Family Allocation of Labor. Hidden Unemployment Reconsidered. Labor Force Participation of Older Males. Hours of Work. Summary.

9. The Demand for Labor 219

An Analysis of the Demand for Labor. The Short-Run Demand for Labor. The Demand for Labor in the Long Run. Wages and Employment at the Level of the Firm. Wages and Employment under Competitive Equilibrium. Equilibrium under Imperfect Competition in Product Markets. Cyclical Changes in the Demand for Labor. Long-Run Changes in the Demand for Labor. Summary.

10. Qualitative Aspects of the Labor Supply:
Human Capital 237

Education and Training as Investments. On-the-Job Training. General Training. Specific Training. Empirical Evidence.

11. The Challenge to the Human Capital Approach 262

Human Capital Reconsidered. The Dual Labor Market Theory. Internal Labor Markets and Specific Training. Primary and Secondary Labor Markets. Policy Implications of Dual Labor Market Theory. Summary and Evaluation of Dual Labor Market Theory. The Radical Perspective of the Labor Market. The Radicals and Public Policy. A Critique of the Radical View. Conclusions on Human Capital: Difficulties.

12. Unemployment and Inflation 292

The Causes of Unemployment: Unemployment and the Phillips Relation—A View from the 1960s. The Phillips Curve—1970s Style. Job Turnover or Inadequate Demand? Unemployment as Full-Time Job Search. Whither the Structuralists? Wage-Price-Unemployment Policy: Policies to Remedy Frictional Unemployment. Structural Policies. Wage-Price Guidelines—The Keynesian Proposal. Effectiveness of Guideposts.

13. The Economics of Collective Bargaining 325

The Economic Sanctions of Collective Bargaining. The Public and Private Costs of Strikes. Bargaining Power in Collective Bargaining. Economic Constraints on Collective Bargaining. The Interrelatedness of Wage Bargains: Industrywide Bargaining. Union Bargaining Objectives: 1. The Business Firm Analogy. 2. Maximization of the Wage Rate. 3. Maximizing the Total Wage Bill. 4. Maximization of Multivalued Goals. Employers' Goals: Maximizing Behavior for the Business Firm. Competitive and Monopsonistic Hiring of Labor. The Bilateral Monopoly Analogy. Employer Preferences and Changing Demand Conditions. The Range of Wage Settlements under Optimum Conditions. Wage Settlements under Conditions of Imperfect Knowledge. The Employment Effects of Wage Settlements. Summary of Wage Determination under Collective Bargaining. Nonwage Aspects of Collective Bargaining: Union Security. Seniority. Seniority and Public Policy. Grievance Procedure. Arbitration.

14. The Impact of Trade Unions on Wages, Prices, and the National Income 368

The Marginal Productivity Theory. The Relative Wage Impact of Unions. Labor's Share of the National Income. A Macroeconomic View of Distributional Problems. Wages and Prices. Summary.

Part IV

PUBLIC POLICY 395

15. Development of Public Policy in Labor Relations 397

Factors Influencing Public Policy on Industrial Relations: Industrialization. Management Attitudes. Union Attitudes. The Joint Rule-Making Process. The Strike Problem: National Emergency Strikes. Railroad Procedures. The Taft-Hartley Procedure. Alternatives to the Taft-Hartley Procedure. The Union Monopoly Question: Present Applicability of Antitrust Laws to Unions. Collective Bargaining in the Public Sector: Executive Order 10988. The Kennedy Codes. Executive Order 11491. Codification of the Executive Orders. State and Local Governments. Summary.

16. The Law of Industrial Relations 426

Nature of Labor Law. The National Labor Relations Act (NLRA): Section 1: Findings and Policies. Section 2: Definitions and Coverage. Sections 3-6: The NLRB and the General Counsel. Section 7: Rights of Employees. Section 8(a): Unfair Labor Practices of Employers. Section 8(b)-(e): Unfair Labor Practices of Unions. Section 10: Prevention of Unfair Labor Practices. Section 9: Representation Elections. The Contract Bar. Free-Speech Provisions—Section 8(c). Regulation of Internal Union Affairs. Provisions of the Labor-Management Reporting and Disclosure Act: “Bill of Rights.” Evaluation of Landrum-Griffin. The Effort to Reform Existing Labor Law.

17. Protective Legislation for Worker Welfare 455

Minimum Wages: Historical Development. The New Deal Era. Expanding Coverage and Raising Benefit Levels. Economic Impact. Maximum Hours: Historical Movements. New Deal Legislation. Workers’ Compensation: Historical Development. Coverage Assessment. Occupational Safety and Health: Historical Development. The Objectives of OSHA. Emerging Issues. Protection for the Aged, the Injured, and the Ill: Nature of the Issue. The Principles of OASDHI. Medical Care. Unemployment Insurance: Historical Development. The Role of the States. Federal Amendments. Concluding Observations.

18. Employment and Income Problems of Women and Minorities 487

The Blacks: Changing Employment Patterns. Patterns of Employment. Factors Responsible for Black Employment and Income Patterns: Discrimination. Education. Training Opportunities. Demographic Changes. Management Attitudes. Blacks and Organized Labor. Informal Discrimination. Segregated Local Unions. Segregated Jobs. Union Efforts to Abolish Discrimination. Women: The Economics of Sex Discrimination. The Hispanics: The Size and the Diversity of the Hispanic Population. Employment Experience. Policy Issues. Conclusions.

19. Programs to Improve Employment Opportunities for Minorities and Women 518

Legal and Administrative Remedies: An Overview: State Fair Employment Practices Law. The Courts. The NLRB. Some Public Policy Controversies: Are Antidiscrimination Laws Necessary? Relative Importance of Nondiscrimination Policies. Wage Policy. Preferential Treatment for

Disadvantaged Minorities. The Bakke Decision. Conclusions on Preferential Treatment. Discrimination against Women. Discrimination against the Aged. Discrimination against the Handicapped. Conclusions on Antidiscrimination Laws and Employment.

20. Human Resource Development Policy 534

The Emergence of Human Resource Policy: The Issue of Structural Unemployment. The Momentum of the Civil Rights Movement. The Need to Reduce Inflationary Pressures. The Program Component of Human Resource Policy: Public Service Employment. Community-Based Organizations. The Special Programs for Youth. The CETA Amendments of 1978. Rejuvenation of the "Old" Training Programs. Comparison of Human Resource Policy in Western Europe with that of the United States. Concluding Observations.

21. Labor Issues of the Future 556

The Decade Ahead: Human Resource Problems. Discrimination. Internal Trade Union Problems and Collective Bargaining. Public Policy Issues. Looking into the 21st Century: Work and Leisure. The Distribution of Income. Participation and Identity.

Index 571