Contents

List of illustrations viii
Introduction xiii
Acknowledgements xv

PART I Why Bookbinding?

1. Bookbinding and the History of Books 2
2. Some Bookbinders' Price Lists of the Seventeenth and Eighteenth Centuries 15

PART II Bookbinding: A Dead Craft?

3. A Binding by Paul Kersten, 1900 70
4. A Binding by W. T. Walker, 1909 72
5. The Thomas Harrison Memorial Competition, 1955–1975: A Record 74

PART III The Late Medieval Tradition in Bookbinding

8. English Decorated Bookbindings of the Fifteenth Century 98
9. A Binding by the Scales Binder, 1456–65 121
10. An Oxford Binding, c. 1480 125
11. A Binding by the Crucifer Binder, c. 1505 128
12. Monasteries and Dragons 131
13. Influences from the Netherlands on Bookbinding in England during the late fifteenth and early sixteenth centuries 146
14. A Franconian Binding, c. 1475 164
15. A Binding made at Coesfeld, c. 1478 167
16. A German Binding, c. 1485 170
17. A Binding from Hamersleben, c. 1510 172
18. A Binding made at Klus, 1526 174

PART IV Gold-tooled Bindings 177

19. A Spanish Mudéjar Binding of the End of the Fifteenth Century 179
20. A Binding by Maestro Luigi, c. 1547 182
21. A Binding by Thomas Krüger, 1573 184
22. A Binding by Jean de Planche, c. 1570 187
23. A London Binding, c. 1638 190
24. A Binding, probably made in Amsterdam, c. 1670 193
25. A Binding by the Charity School Binder, c. 1670–73 196
26. A Binding by Alexander Ogstoun, c. 1680 199
27. A Binding by William Cox, 1684 202
28. A Binding, possibly made by Thomas Norris, 1685 204
29. An Amsterdam Binding, c. 1700 207
30. A Binding by the Geometrical Compartment Binder, c. 1703 210
31. A Middelburg Binding, c. 1750–58 213
32. A Binding by Christiaan Micke, c. 1755 216
33. An Eton Binding of the 1760s by Roger Payne 218
34. A Binding by Roger Payne, 1796 221
35. A Binding by Devers, c. 1770–83 224
36. A Binding by James Scott, c. 1779 226
37. A Binding by James Campbell, 1781 229
38. A London Rococo Binding, 1782 232
39. A Binding by Gabriel de Sancha, c. 1790 234
40. An Irish Binding by William McKenzie, 1784 236
41. A Binding by Bartholomew Frye, c. 1820 238
42. A Binding by Thomas Mullen of Dublin, c. 1827–30 241
43. A Binding by Archibald MacLiesh, 1837 243
44. A Binding by M. M. Holloway, c. 1862 246
45. A Binding by Westleys & Co., 1864 248
PART V Unusual Materials

46. The Olga Hirsch Collection of Decorated Papers 253
47. Ferrarese Woodcut Bindings of the Late Fifteenth and Early Sixteenth Centuries 280
48. An English Woodcut Binding, 1647 286
49. An English Paper Binding, c. 1698 288
50. A Parisian Paper Binding, c. 1781 290
51. A Sienese Panel, 1488 293
52. A Pair of Bookcovers of the Late Nineteenth Century by I. F. Joni 296

PART VI Collectors and Collections

53. Bookbinding Patronage in England 300
54. Some Bindings for Foreign Students in Sixteenth-Century Paris 324
55. A Binding by the Du Saix Master for Jean Grolier, c. 1538 329
56. A Binding by the King Edward and Queen Mary Binder, London, 1552 332
57. A Binding for Jacques de Malenfant, c. 1560-66 336
58. Some Bindings for Charles I 340
59. A Binding for Caroline of Ansbach, 1722 352
60. The Henry Davis Collection: The British Museum Gift 355
61. Some Bookbindings in the Herzog August Bibliothek 384

PART VII Preserving the Past

62. The Binding Historian and the Book Conservator 419
63. Preserving Books and their History 432
64. Medieval Painted Book Edges 439

Index of Binders 455

Index of Owners 461