

TIM RICHARDSON

Futurescapes

DESIGNERS FOR TOMORROW'S OUTDOOR SPACES

With 472 illustrations

Thames & Hudson

Contents

Introduction TIM RICHARDSON	8	Balmori NEW YORK, NEW YORK, USA Award-winning landscape outfit that seeks to explore and expand the boundaries between nature and structure.	18	estudioOCA OFFICES WORLDWIDE A truly international company, specializing in urban design and transportation, and not afraid of big gestures.	56
THE CHALLENGE OF LANDSCAPE URBANISM Essay 1	60	Patrick Blanc PARIS, FRANCE Pioneer and leading exponent of the dramatic living wall concept.	22	Formwerkz SINGAPORE Progressive architects who have begun to design truly 'inside-outside' private houses that incorporate garden areas into the built fabric.	70
LANDSCAPE URBANISM CHALLENGED Essay 2	116	Christopher Bradley-Hole LONDON, ENGLAND Modernist garden designer who combines elegant architecture with naturalistic plantsmanship.	26	GREENinc JOHANNESBURG, SOUTH AFRICA Confident design team that integrates an African sensibility and aesthetic into all its work.	76
THE RESURGENCE OF LANDFORM Essay 3	184	Bruto LJUBLJANA, SLOVENIA Exciting young company with an exuberant and unpredictable signature style.	32	Juan Grimm SANTIAGO, CHILE Thoroughgoing knowledge of the natural flora enables this experienced designer to create glamorous spaces in keeping with the natural surroundings.	84
THE FUTURE OF LANDSCAPE DESIGN Forum 1	240	Fernando Caruncho MADRID, SPAIN Philosophically inspired designer of elegant and highly original spaces on all scales.	38	Häger ZÜRICH, SWITZERLAND Innovative landscape design that effortlessly straddles the garden/landscape divide.	90
THE FUTURE OF LANDSCAPE DESIGN Forum 2	296	Andrea Cochran SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA, USA A designer working within the traditions of Californian Modernism, with the addition of bold, painterly plantings and strident sculptural interventions.	46	Hocker Design Group DALLAS, TEXAS, USA A recently established company rapidly reaching its creative potential with a string of award-winning projects.	96
Agence TER KARLSRUHE, GERMANY / PARIS, FRANCE Innovative, interdisciplinary agency that sees no distinction between landscape and urban planning.	10	Vladimir Djurovic BROUAMANA, LEBANON Luxurious, clean-lined garden spaces and pools for an uncompromising but beautiful climate and environment.	52	Hoerr Schaudt CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, USA A large company specializing in corporate and commercial work, injecting potentially dull schemes with vision and life.	102

Hood Design 106

OAKLAND, CALIFORNIA, USA

Well-established practice that continues to push the boundaries between landscape, architecture, urban design, environmentalism and city planning.

Charles Jencks 110

LONDON, ENGLAND

Pioneer of the use of landform or turf sculpture on a massive scale, now inflected with archaeological as well as cosmological ideas.

Mikyoung Kim 126

BROOKLINE, MASSACHUSETTS, USA

Now a major player on the international scene, this is a firm bursting with confidence and innovative brio.

Landscape India 132

AHMEDABAD, INDIA

An innovative and fearless firm, set to become a major player on the international scene.

Latz + Partner 138

KRANZBERG, GERMANY / LONDON, ENGLAND

Well-established company known for its postindustrial designs, still pushing the boundaries and experimenting with new ideas.

Tom Leader 144

BERKELEY, CALIFORNIA, USA

Solidly performing yet continually developing company, specializing in glamorous domestic settings.

Levin Monsigny 148

BERLIN, GERMANY

Effective, functional landscape and garden design enlivened by surreal twists and unexpected moves.

Lohaus Carl 152

HANOVER, GERMANY

Formally imaginative practice that dares to use an innovative vocabulary, setting them apart from many other Modernist design firms in Germany.

McGregor Coxall 156

SYDNEY, AUSTRALIA

Leading landscape architecture firm with a string of exciting recent projects, specializing in industrial regeneration.

Mesa Design Group 162

DALLAS, TEXAS, USA

A large international company that has not lost its creative edge, allowing individual designers their voices.

Teresa Moller 170

VITACURA, CHILE

Environmentally sensitive design that integrates elements of the natural landscape, while incorporating complementary materials.

N-Tree 174

TOKYO, JAPAN

A truly individualistic take on the tradition of Japanese design, courtesy of an original sculptural sensibility.

OAB 178

BARCELONA, SPAIN

Exuberant landscape design, unbounded and unbracketed, from the office of Carlos Ferrater.

The Office of James Burnett 194

SOLANA BEACH, CALIFORNIA / HOUSTON, TEXAS, USA

Elegant park design and glamorous private gardens, all conceived in the tradition of the Modernist conviction that 'gardens are for people'.

Ossart & Maurières 200

PARIS, FRANCE

Planting duo who specialize in naturalistic yet effortlessly chic design, much of it now in Morocco and North Africa.

Piet Oudolf 206

HUMMELO, NETHERLANDS

Pioneer of the New Perennials school of naturalistic planting design, here is a garden designer with a truly international reputation.

Dan Pearson 214

LONDON, ENGLAND

Deep-thinking, emotionally engaged designer, who fuses a modern vision with an acute sensitivity to natural landscapes.

Peña & Peña Paysages 222

PARIS, FRANCE

Exciting and original yet highly formalized landscape design, most of it in the public sphere.

Planergruppe Oberhausen 228

OBERHAUSEN, GERMANY

Thoughtful, austere elegant designs from this highly professional practice.

POLA 232

BERLIN, GERMANY

Unusual forms utilized on a city-square scale characterize this fearless public-landscape practice.

Patrizia Pozzi 236

MILAN, ITALY

A true original, this designer has worked in many styles and mediums, but always makes the space her own.

Proap 250 LISBON, PORTUGAL Urban design that blends strident Modernism with a romantic, environmental and agricultural sensibility.	SWA Group 306 OFFICES IN CALIFORNIA AND TEXAS, USA International firm with scores of large-scale projects, several of which can be counted as innovative and influential.	Directory 344
Raderschall Partner 258 MEILEN, SWITZERLAND Classic functional design, but realized on a human scale and with human emotions in mind.	Turenscape 312 BEIJING, CHINA One of the most exciting companies operating anywhere today, consistently experimental and innovative.	Contributor biographies: Critics & designers' forums 348
Sant en Co 264 THE HAGUE, NETHERLANDS Dutch functional Modernism with an austere edge, undercut by a surprising use of materials and striking sculptural interventions.	Patrick Verbruggen 320 BONHEIDEN, BELGIUM Perfectly weighted minimalist design, conceived and executed for a loyal local clientele.	Further reading 350
The Sheffield School 268 SHEFFIELD, ENGLAND At the cutting edge of planting design worldwide, this 'school' takes naturalism to its logical conclusion, often with beguiling effects.	Wette + Künecke 326 GÖTTINGEN, GERMANY Classical German Modernism made relevant and updated to a 21st-century milieu.	Picture credits 351
Stephen Stimson 276 FALMOUTH / CAMBRIDGE, MASSACHUSETTS, USA Less truly is more in the case of this minimalist designer, who relies more on natural effects and materials than hardscape.	Kim Wilkie 330 RICHMOND, ENGLAND Quietly visionary landscape architect, whose work is infused with deep thought and reflection, a specialist in elegant landform.
Tom Stuart-Smith 282 LONDON, ENGLAND Designer who fuses sure spatial awareness with an acute planting sensibility, honed from the British herbaceous tradition.	Wirtz International 334 SCHOTEN, BELGIUM Father-and-son team recognized worldwide for their beautifully pared-down landscape vocabulary of hedges, canals and topiary.
Surface Design 288 SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA, USA Working at all scales, this company offers the epitome of glamorous outdoor living on the domestic scale.	ZUS 340 ROTTERDAM, NETHERLANDS A funky and unpredictable company that eschews the bijou, envisaging fantastical work on a large scale.	