

How to use

MANAGEMENT RATIOS

C.A. WESTWICK

TECHNISCHE HOCHSCHULE DARMSTADT
Fachbereich 1
Gesamtbibliothek
Betriebswirtschaftslehre
Inventar-Nr. :	15.531
Abstell-Nr. :	A 12/665
Sachgebiete:	1.2.0

A Gower Press Workbook

Contents

Acknowledgements	xi
Introduction	xiii
Objective of book	xiii
How ratios can help management	xiii
How to make the best use of this book	xiii
Historical note	xiv
Feedback	xiv
PART ONE	1
1 Principles of Ratio Selection	2
1.1 Why ratios?	2
1.2 How to select ratios	2
1.3 Difficulties with ratios and how to overcome them	3
1.4 Expressing a ratio	4
1.5 Asset utilisation ratios	5
1.6 Presenting the information	5
Appendix 1.1 Asset utilisation ratios	5
2 Standards of Comparison	11
2.1 Internal standards	11
2.2 External standards—other firms	12
2.3 External standards—work measurement	37
2.4 Composite standards—internal plus external	39
2.5 Constraints	39
2.6 Summary	39
Appendix 2.1 Sources of published information	40
		Appendix 2.2 How to trace UK company information	40
		Appendix 2.3 Trade associations and Economic Development Councils in the UK known to organise exchanges of information	43
		Appendix 2.4 Organised interfirm comparisons. List of Industries and trades in which the Centre for Interfirm Comparison has prepared IFC schemes	44
		3 Principles of Ratio Definition and Calculation	45
		3.1 General principles	45
		3.2 Main accounting terms	45
		3.3 Use of data assembly and ratio calculation work sheets	48
		PART TWO	49
		4 Priority Ratios for the Chief Executive	50
		4.1 The firm and its markets	51
		4.2 The firm and the providers of capital	52
		4.3 The firm and its suppliers	52
		4.4 The firm and its employees	53
		4.5 Use of assets	53
		4.6 The future	54
		4.7 Summary	55
		4.8 Data assembly and ratio calculation work sheets	55
		Appendix 4.1 The Weinstock yardsticks of efficiency	56
		5 Ratios for Overall Control	80
		5.1 Investment in subsidiaries and/or divisions	80

5.2	Product policy	82	9 Ratios for Production Management	190
5.3	Capacity utilisation	83	9.1	No measure of maximum output obtainable	190
5.4	Planning for the future--discretionary cash flow	86	9.2	Measure of maximum output obtainable	193
5.5	Planning for the future--research and development	86	9.3	Shopfloor ratios	193
5.6	Growth and stability	87	9.4	Economic batch quantity (EBQ)	198
Appendix 5.1	Worked example of calculation of growth indices	88	Appendix 9.1	Extract from Glossary of Terms Used in Work Study , British Standards Institution (BS 3138: 1969)	200
6	Ratios for Marketing Management	112	10 Ratios for Personnel Management	218
6.1	Marketing ratios in a manufacturing business	112	10.1	Recruitment	218
6.2	Advertising	114	10.2	Training	219
6.3	Three dimensions of marketing	115	10.3	Industrial relations	219
6.4	Marketing in a business with long-term contracts	116	11 Operating Ratios for Non-manufacturing Organisations	230
6.5	Selling	119	11.1	Ratios for a merchanting organisation	230
6.6	Distribution	119	11.2	Ratios for a retailing organisation	233
6.7	Stock turnover and customers' creditworthiness	121	11.3	Ratios for professional firms	233
7	Ratios for Purchasing Management	142	11.4	Ratios for hotels	237
7.1	The key ratio	142	Appendix 11.1	The evolution of a set of ratios for firms in the accountancy profession	240
7.2	Subsidiary ratios	142	PART THREE	261
7.3	Stock control	145	12 Integrated Control by Ratios	262
7.4	Further subsidiary ratios	147	12.1	Integrated ratios	262
8	Ratios for Financial Management	158	12.2	The analytical path	272
8.1	Minimising the rate of tax	158	12.3	Using ratios for planning	273
8.2	Raising finance	158	12.4	Using ratios for monitoring and control	273
8.3	Maintaining liquidity	161	Suggestions for Further Reading	277
8.4	Supervision of the firm's investments	163	Index to Ratios	281
8.5	The company and the Stock Exchange	167	Subject Index	287
8.6	Supervision of data processing	171
Appendix 8.1	A note on capital gains	172			