

Peter Lorange

University of Pennsylvania

CORPORATE PLANNING

An Executive Viewpoint

TECHNISCHE HOCHSCHULE DARMSTADT
Fachbereich 1
Gesamtbibliothek
Betriebswirtschaftslehre
Inventar-Nr. :	32.859
Abstell-Nr. :	A 12/923
Sachgebiete :	1.2.2

Contents

Preface ix

1 Purpose of Corporate Planning: Strategic Decision Making 1

Introduction	1
Allocation of Strategic Resources	2
Adaptation; Identification of Strategic Options	4
Integration; Narrow Down Options	6
Management Development	8
Outline of Book	9
Summary	12
Notes	14

2 A Conceptual Approach to Corporate Planning 17

Introduction	17
Three Levels of Strategic Planning: The Concepts	18
Three Levels of Strategic Planning: Implementational Considerations	21
Stages of the Planning Process	31

A Three-by-Five Information Flow Model of Corporate Planning	54
Feedback Characteristics	60
Summary	63
Appendix: Complex Hierarchical Organizational Structures with Dual Strategic/Operating Emphasis	64
Notes	71

3 Auditing the Company's Strategic Positions: Determining Planning Needs 75

Introduction	75
The Product/Market Element Concept	76
The Concepts of the Experience Curve and the Product Life Cycle as Premises for Product/Market Business Element Strategic Analysis	82
The Market Share/Market Growth Grid	89
Adaptation and Integration Needs of a Strategy Center	95
Modifications of the Product/Market Element Strategic Position Matrix	98
Consolidation of Several Strategy Centers	100
Corporate Strategic Planning Need Assessment: Financial Position	105
Corporate Strategic Planning Need Assessment: Structural Position	108
Portfolio-Level Planning Needs: Synthesis	112
Assessment of Risk Exposure of Strategic Positions	116
Summary	122
Appendix I: A Portfolio Attractiveness Index: An Example	124
Appendix II: Funds-Flow Analysis to Highlight Portfolio Strategy Structural Pressures	127
Notes	129

4 Implementation of Corporate Planning Systems: General Pitfalls and Problems 133

Introduction	133
Implementation Pitfalls and Problems During the Objectives-Setting Stage	134
Implementation Pitfalls and Problems During the Strategic Programming Stage	149
Implementation Pitfalls and Problems During the Budgeting Stage	154
Implementation Pitfalls and Problems During the Monitoring Stage	162
Implementation Pitfalls and Problems During the Management Incentivating Stage	168
Summary	172
Notes	175

5 Tailor-Making the Corporate Planning System's Design 177

Introduction	177
Revising a Planning Systems Module to Meet a Strategy Center's Planning Needs	179
Top-Down Versus Bottom-Up Emphasis During Planning Reviews	186
Front-End Versus Back-End Emphasis: The Planning Calendar	189
Linkages Between the Five Cycles of the Planning System	192
The Monitoring System	196
The Management Incentive System	199
Tailor-Making the Planning System to Reinforce Shifts in Strategic Direction: An Example	202
Summary	206
Notes	208

6	Managing the Evolution of the Corporate Planning System	209
	Introduction	209
	The Task of Managing the Corporate Planning System over Time	210
	A Strategic Management System Point of View: Consistency	214
	Overloading of the Strategic System	220
	Strategic Filters	225
	Evolutionary Pressures: Reconciling the Strategic and the Operating Structures	231
	Modifying the Planning System to the Matrix Organizational Structure	236
	Planning Considerations in Multinational Corporations	240
	Risk Aversion in Planning	246
	When Should Strategic Audits of Planning Needs Be Carried Out and by Whom?	247
	Summary	249
	Notes	251
7	Executives' Roles in Planning	253
	Introduction	253
	A Behavioral Process	254
	The Chief Executive Officer's Role in Planning	257
	The Line Management's Roles in the Planning Process	262
	The Roles of the Planners	265
	The Role of the Board of Directors in Planning	273
	The Role of Outside Consultants in Planning	275
	Summary	277
	Notes	278

8 Corporate Planning—A Synthesis 279

Introduction	279
A Rationale for Corporate Planning	280
The Elements of the Approach	282
Responding to Today's Needs	284
Emerging Trends and Challenges	286
Summary	287

} Revised

Name Index 289

Subject Index 292