Preface

1	A review of recent developments in concrete modelling A Long	1
2	Reinforced and prestressed microconcrete models E Maisel	17
3	BRS tests on micro-concrete models – a review of the scaling aspects S Kumar and G W Dupuch	27
4	The construction of a 1/12th scale prestressed concrete bifurcated bridge model P Waldron, M W Pinkney and S H Perry	39
5	Bond characteristics of small diameter bars used in microconcrete models N K Subedi and F K Garas	53
6	Bond similitude in reinforced microconcrete models I G White and L A Clark	67
7	Crack similitude in reinforced micro-concrete L A Clark	77
8	Bond in reinforced concrete models M S Mirza	85
9	Deformed wire reinforcement for microconcrete models F A Noor and M Khalid	103
10	Application of model results to design W J Beranek	119
11	Experiences with use of strength models in the design process B de V Batchelor and T I Campbell	173
12	Reliability of structural concrete models M S Mirza	183
13	Criteria for the choice and use of model materials for reinforced concrete structures G Oberti and E Fumagalli	205
14	Model investigations in microconcrete with particular reference to the National Westminster Bank offices J E Gibson	215
15	Torsion, bending and shear tests on reinforced microconcrete beams C D Goode	231
16	Model tests on elements of the West Gate Bridge, Melbourne H P J Taylor	245

17	The use of models in studying response to dynamic loading	253
	I L Davies
18	Small scale microconcrete control specimens	261
	P Waldron and S H Perry
19	Examples of the application of microconcrete model results to design problems	277
	F K Garas
20	Direct models of prestressed concrete beams in bending and shear	299
	M S Mirza and J O McCutcheon
21	Design of reinforced concrete slabs	317
	W J Beranek
22	Explosion tests on a 1/4 scale model structure	349
	M Beak
23	Multistoreyed structure researched under wind and seism loads on a reinforced microconcrete model	355
	J Domsa and I Olariu
	Discussion	365
	Index	387
