

420
429

Commission of the European Communities

PREDATORY BEHAVIOUR IN AVIATION

J.S. DODGSON

Department of Economics and Accounting, University of
Liverpool, and Strategic Industrial Research Ltd

Y. KATSOULACOS

Department of Economics and Accounting, University of
Liverpool, and Strategic Industrial Research Ltd

R.W.S. PRYKE

Department of Economics and Accounting, University of Liverpool

A REPORT TO THE COMPETITION DIRECTORATE OF THE EUROPEAN COMMISSION

1990

Document

VB TU Darmstadt

51644441

CONTENTS		PAGE
SECTION I	INTRODUCTION	1
SECTION II	A FRAMEWORK FOR IDENTIFYING PREDATION	8
	1. Predation and the theory of industrial organisation	8
	2. Predation and competition policy	13
	3. Identifying predation	16
	Appendix to Section II	37
SECTION III	ALLEGATIONS OF PREDATION IN AVIATION	39
	1. Previous consideration of predation in aviation	39
	2. U.S. evidence	43
	3. European evidence	52
SECTION IV	ASSESSING PROFITABILITY IN AVIATION	62
	1. Introduction	62
	2. The relevance of marginal costs	63
	3. Allocating costs by route	68
	4. Allocating revenue by route	74
	5. The impact of price discrimination	77
	Appendix to Section IV	82
SECTION V	CONCLUSIONS AND RECOMMENDATIONS	84
FOOTNOTES		96
REFERENCES		99