

Planning World Cities

Globalization and Urban Politics

Peter Newman and Andy Thornley

palgrave
macmillan

Contents

List of Maps	viii
Acknowledgements	ix
1 Introduction	1
The framework of global/local governance	5
The strategic urban planning agenda	7
Comparing world cities: our approach	9
CONCEPTUAL FRAMEWORK
2 Global Transformation and the City: The Debates	12
The globalization debate	12
Impact of globalization on cities	19
Challenges to the world city hypothesis	23
3 The Impact of Urban Governance and Policy	32
Global politics, regionalism and national sovereignty	33
States, cities and the politics of scales	39
Politics and governance in the cities	43
Key planning issues for world cities	50
NORTH AMERICA
4 Cities in North America: Rediscovering Downtown, Regionalism and Devolution	54
The changing system of cities	55
Restructuring cities	57
Rescaling government? NAFTA, federal urban policy and devolution	62
5 New York: Capital of the World	69
The governance of planning and development	71
Building and rebuilding the capital of the world	77
Conclusions	92

6	The Challenge to New York's World City Dominance: Toronto, Mexico City, Chicago or Los Angeles?	94
	Toronto: 'the most multicultural city in the world'	95
	Mexico City: the mega city	100
	Chicago: the 'plan for urban greatness'	102
	Los Angeles: the 'prototype' world city	106

EUROPE

7	European Integration and Competitive City Regions	115
	European cities: history, competition and a new urban hierarchy	116
	European cities: the framework of governance	123
8	London: From Fragmentation to World City Promotion	134
	Institutional change and fragmented government	137
	The powers of the Greater London Authority	139
	The continued dominance of the private sector	141
	The big tent	145
	The London Plan	146
	Interagency cooperation in shaping London as a world city	153
	Conclusions	157
9	Europe's World City Contenders: Paris, Berlin, Frankfurt and Barcelona	161
	Paris: the petit quatrième	162
	Berlin: reviving a world city	172
	Germany's financial capital: Frankfurt	179
	The Barcelona model	180

PACIFIC ASIA

10	Pacific Asia: Economic Interdependence and the Developmental State	184
	From economic miracle to economic crisis	189
	Implications of 'catch up'	191
	Developmental state	192
	City hierarchies and networks	194
	Cities	196
	Local pressures	200

11	Tokyo: Shaping a World City in the Face of Economic Turbulence	202
	Tokyo: world city?	204
	Strategic planning in the boom years of the 1980s	209
	Crisis and reglobalization: shifting attitudes about Tokyo's world city role	213
	Conclusions	222
12	Hong Kong, Shanghai and Singapore: A Battle for Regional Dominance – Mega-Projects and State-Led Visions	227
	Globalization, the state and Chinese cities	228
	Hong Kong: the gateway to China	233
	Shanghai: a state-led world city	237
	Singapore: city state and archetypal world city	246
CONCLUSIONS
13	Planning World Cities	255
	Economic globalization, state restructuring and urban governance within the three global regions	257
	Global imperative or regional difference?	265
	The planning of world cities over the last twenty years: convergence or diversity?	268
	Creative planning in a complex world	273
	Bibliography	278
	Index	304