

The March to Capitalism in the Transition Countries

IRVING S. MICHELMAN

Former corporate executive and advisor to Federal Reserve Board and US Department of Commerce

Ashgate

Aldershot • Burlington USA • Singapore • Sydney

Contents

Acknowledgements	x
Introduction	xi
1	Russia: Lurching Towards Capitalism	1
	The Aim of This Book	1
	Gazprom: A Transition Paradigm	3
	Interenterprise Arrearages	7
	The Question of Management	8
	Crony Capitalism	10
2	Western Aid: The International Monetary Fund	20
	A Review of International Monetary Fund Aid to Russia	20
	What is the IMF?	23
	The Mexican Crisis Comparison	26
	How Russian and Mexican IMF Aid Differ	28
	Evaluating IMF Aid	29
3	The World Bank and Other Aid to Russia	32
	The World Bank	32
	The Bank's Ideology	34
	The Coal Industry Fiasco	36
	My Problem with Gazprom's Taxes	39
	G-7 Countries, European Commission, US Aid, and EBRD	43
	US Aid Under the Freedom Support Act	44
	EBRD (European Bank for Reconstruction and Development)	45

	The Paris and London Club Debts Owed by Russia	46
	A Postscript on Germany	47
	Evaluating Aid to Russia	48
4	Russia, Hungary, Poland, and the Czech Republic Compared	55
	The Economic Strategies of Transition	55
	Reflections on the "Success-Trio"	63
	Hungary: Gradualism and Foreign Investment
	Attraction	64
	Poland: A Formidable Economist	67
	The Pope and Capitalism	71
	Poland's Shock Therapy	72
5	Privatization: The Defining Strategy of Transition	76
	Voucher Capitalism	85
	The Second Stage	88
6	Gorbachev's Economic Reforms	92
	No End of Proposals	94
	Gorbachev's Advisors	98
	The Nina Andreyevna Affair	100
	Gorbachev's Attraction to Socialism	104
	Initiative and Incentive	105
	Gorbachev and Yeltsin	107
7	Václav Havel: A Principled Dissident	111
	The Playwright Meets Power	111
	The Power of the Powerless	113
	The Sign in the Greengrocer's Window	115
8	Adam Michnik: Choosing Liberalism	121
	Michnik and Liberalism	125
	The Soros Conversion	125
	A Brief History of Liberalism	126
	Letters to Michnik	129
9	China in Transition	134
	Mao and Deng	135

	The Great Leap Forward	137
	The Cultural Revolution (1967–1977)	140
	China as a Special Case in Transition	142
	Deng's Achievement	143
	Town and Village Enterprises	146
	Leaving China	148
	The Differences	149
10	Russia Reconsidered	155
	When Will Russian Reform Succeed?	156
	The Negative Side	157
	Corruption	159
	The New Oligarchs	160
	The China Model	162
	The Role of the State	165
	Russia as a Transition Laboratory	167
	Index	171