

Economic Progress and Prospects in the Third World

Lessons of Development Experience Since 1945

H.W. Singer and Sumit Roy

*The Institute of Development Studies at the University of Sussex
Brighton, UK*

Edward Elgar

Contents

List of tables	vii
Preface	ix
Introduction	1
PART 1 OVERALL POSTWAR DEVELOPMENT EXPERIENCE, 1945–89
Introduction	7
1 The Story of Development: Differing Scenarios	8
2 The High Hopes of Bretton Woods and the Worm in the Apple	11
3 The 1950s and 1960s: Were They Really Solid Gold?	17
4 The 1970s: Growth Maintained? The Illusion of Debt-led Growth	28
5 The 1980s: the Lost Decade – Development in Reverse?	40
PART 2 CASE STUDIES
6 Introduction	55
7 A Case Study of Nigeria	56
8 Nigeria in the Postwar Period	66
9 Nigeria in the ‘Golden Age’	76

10	Nigeria in the Era of 'Debt-led Growth'	81
11	Nigeria in the 'Lost Decade'	97
12	A Case Study of India	113
13	India in the Postwar Period	119
14	India in the 'Golden Age'	131
15	India in the Era of 'Debt-led Growth'	141
16	India in the 'Lost Decade'	145
17	Lessons of Nigerian and Indian Development	159
PART 3 THE 1990s
18	On to Fortune or Bound in Miseries?	169
	General References	181
	Index	183