

Perspectives on the History of Economic Thought Volume II

Twentieth-Century Economic Thought

Selected Papers from the History of Economics Society Conference, 1987

Edited by Donald A. Walker

Published for the History of Economics
Society by Edward Elgar

Contents

Introduction Donald A. Walker	vi
Contributors	ix
PART 1 ECONOMIC THOUGHT ON NATIONAL PROBLEMS
1 Werner Sombart's theory of the business cycle Jürgen Backhaus	3
2 The economics of democratic socialism after fifty years Elizabeth Durbin	23
3 On designing an economic order. The contributions of the Frieberg School Heinz G. Grosseketler	38
PART II JOHN MAYNARD KEYNES
4 The reception of Keynes' Treatise on Money : a review of the reviews Robert W. Dimand	87
5 Keynes on speculation Steven Pressman	97
6 From the 'banana parable' to the principle of effective demand: some reflections on the origin, development and structure of Keynes' General Theory Ingo Barenz	111
7 Keynes' General Theory : the Marshall connection Robert W. Clower	133
8 The quantity theory of money of J. M. Keynes: from Indian Currency to the General Theory Christopher Marmé and Karl A. McDermott	148
PART III MODERN ECONOMICS
9 On the history of neutral money Hansjoerg Klausinger	171
10 Dutch monetarism in retrospect M. M. G. Fase	187
11 Patinkin and the real real-balance effect Paul B. Trescott	199
12 A rational reconstruction of the rational expectations revolution Shyam J. Kamath	217
Author Index	245
Subject Index	252