

DYNAMIC FORCES IN CAPITALIST DEVELOPMENT

A Long-Run Comparative View

ANGUS MADDISON

Oxford New York
OXFORD UNIVERSITY PRESS

CONTENTS

LIST OF TABLES AND GRAPHS	xi
INTRODUCTION	1
1. INTERPRETING CAPITALIST DEVELOPMENT	5
Distinctive Features and Dimensions of Capitalist Development	5
The Nature of our Causal Schema	10
Interpreters of the Protocapitalist Epoch	11
Malthus	11
Adam Smith	15
Interpreters of the Capitalist Epoch	16
Ricardo	17
Marx	18
Schumpeter	20
Contemporary Insights into the Development Process	22
Notes	27
2. CHANGES IN ECONOMIC LEADERSHIP	30
The Dutch Case	30
The British Case	35
The US Case	40
Notes	45
3. LONG-RUN DYNAMIC FORCES IN CAPITALIST DEVELOPMENT	48
Institutions	52
Natural Resources	56
Demographic Change	60
Growth of Labour Supply	63
Human Capital	63

Physical Capital	65
Technical Progress	66
Structural Change	73
International Trade	74
The Role of Government	76
Colonialism	80
Notes	82
4. FLUCTUATIONS IN THE MOMENTUM OF GROWTH	85
Cycle Analysis	85
Long-Wave Analysis	89
Kondratieff	89
Kuznets and Abramovitz	96
Schumpeter	102
Long-Wave Revivalists	105
Conclusions on Long-Wave Theories	108
Phases of Growth	111
Notes	125
5. ACCELERATION, SLOW-DOWN, AND CONVERGENCE AFTER 1950	128
The Growth Accounts	132
The Quantity and Quality of Labour Input	136
Unemployment	136
Labour Hoarding	136
Hours per Person	137
Educational Level	138
Sex-Mix	138
Augmented Labour Input	139
The Quantity and Quality of Capital Input	139
Non-Residential Capital	139
Embodied Technical Progress, the Age Effect, and the Quality of Capital	141
Residential Capital	144

Total Factor Input	145
Forces Supplemental to Factor Input	145
Impact of Foreign Trade	147
Impact of Structural Change	148
Accelerated Diffusion of Technology	152
Economies of Scale	153
Impact of the Energy Crisis	153
Effects of Natural Resource Discovery	155
Extent to which Growth is Explained	159
Extent to which Acceleration and Deceleration are Explained	159
Extent to which Convergence is Explained	160
Notes	165
6. THE ROLE OF POLICY IN ECONOMIC PERFORMANCE SINCE 1950	167
Characteristics of the Golden Age (1950–1973)	168
Managed Liberalism in International Transactions	168
Governmental Promotion of Domestic Demand	169
Buoyancy
The Role of Policy and Circumstance in Moderating Price Increases	173
The Breakdown of the Golden Age	177
The Collapse of the Bretton Woods International Monetary System	177
The Erosion of Price Constraints	179
The Oil Shock	181
Changed Policy Aspirations	182
Adequacy of the Response to the New Challenges	185
Meeting the OPEC Threat	185
Deceleration of Inflation	187
Viability of International Payments Arrangements	187
The Degree of Policy Success since 1973	190
Notes	193

Appendix A	Sources and Methods Used to Measure Output Levels and GDP Growth	195
Appendix B	Population	223
Appendix C	Labour Input and Labour Productivity	243
Appendix D	Non-Residential Reproducible Tangible Fixed Capital Stock	278
Appendix E	Cost of Living	293
Appendix F	The Volume of Merchandise Exports	308
INDEX		329