

Economics, Welfare Policy and the History of Economic Thought

Essays in Honour of Arnold Heertje

Edited by

Martin M.G. Fase

*Deputy Executive Director, De Nederlandsche Bank and Professor of Monetary Economics, University of Amsterdam,
The Netherlands*

Walter Kanning

Associate Professor of Economics, Faculty of Law, University of Amsterdam, The Netherlands

Donald A. Walker

University Professor and Professor of Economics, Emeritus, Indiana University of Pennsylvania, US

Edward Elgar

Cheltenham, UK • Northampton, MA, USA

Contents

List of figures	vii
List of tables	viii
List of contributors	ix
Introduction	xiii

PART ONE ECONOMIC THEORY

1	A cooperative theory of duopoly Takashi Negishi	3
2	A commodity flow model of flexible exchange rates with overshooting in response to inflation Reinhard Selten	15
3	The market for oranges Dave Furth	40
4	Complications in the model of a perfectly competitive firm and industry Donald A. Walker	70
5	Models of the market Claus Weddepohl	90
6	Revisiting the Schumpeter hypotheses: firm size, market structure and technological regime Uwe Cantner and Horst Hanusch	104
7	Technical change and economic growth: the case of 'catch-up' Chris Freeman	127
8	Coordination, technical progress and economic growth Simon K. Kuipers and Gerard H. Kuper	149
9	Reswitching: simplifying a famous example Heinz D. Kurz and Neri Salvadori	169

PART TWO ECONOMIC POLICY AND APPLIED ECONOMICS

10	Labour market 'flexibility' and welfare Frank Hahn	183
11	On substitutability among domestic money and cross-border deposits Martin M.G. Fase	199

12	The global financial crisis of 1997–98: lessons for economic policy Joseph Stiglitz	211
13	The Coase Theorem and the cooperative Nash bargaining game Walter Kanning	230
14	On property rights and their modification Ejan Mackaay	245
15	Economic development in Europe: 1950–96 Theo van de Klundert	265
16	Different data sources for studying behaviour Bernard M.S. van Praag and Paul Frijters	290
17	Economy and morality: a conceptual framework Yuichi Shionoya	310

PART THREE HISTORY OF ECONOMIC THOUGHT

18	Ricardo's misunderstood value theory and the readability of the Principles William J. Baumol	333
19	Sherlock Holmes and the swarthy German: the case of inanely 'transforming' Mehrwert to prices Paul A. Samuelson	345
20	Alfred Marshall and Herbert Somerton Foxwell: a tale of two libraries Peter Groenewegen	364
21	The afterglow of the German Historical School, 1945–60 Bertram Schefold	378
22	An economist turned entrepreneur Warren J. Samuels	392
23	Authority systems and schools of economic thought Mark Perlman	410
	Index	429