

International Marketing Strategy

FRANK BRADLEY
University College Dublin

Second Edition

TECHNISCHE HOCHSCHULE DARMSTADT
Fachbereich 1
Gesamtbibliothek
Betriebswirtschaftslehre
Inventar-Nr.:	48.231
Abstell-Nr.:	A 28/2511
Sachgebiete:

PRENTICE HALL

London New York Toronto Sydney Tokyo Singapore
Madrid Mexico City Munich

Contents

Acknowledgements	xxi
Preface	xxiii
PART I The decision to internationalize	1
1 International marketing in the firm	3
The firm in international markets	3
Nature of the international firm	4
Marketing orientation for the international firm	6
Research and development in the international firm	8
Competitive advantage in the firm	9
Strategic thinking in international marketing	11
Strategic marketing process	13
Using the Value Added Chain	15
Performance and growth of the firm	17
Improving marketing performance in the firm	18
Meaning of growth for the international firm	20
Marketing objectives and firm growth	22
Market resources and profit growth	24
The costs of company growth	25
International market expansion process	26
International exchange of assets	26
Firm as coordinator of international markets	27
Dynamics of the international firm	28
Summary	30
Discussion questions	31
References	31

2 Theories of the firm in international markets	33
Recent interest in international marketing	33
Theory and practice in international marketing	34
Impact of strategic thinking	34
Trade theories of the firm in international markets	35
Absolute advantage and the international firm	35
Comparative advantage and the international firm	36
Exchange rates and trade theory	37
Limitations of trade theory	40
Foreign direct investment theories	40
International firm and market imperfections	41
Internationalization approach	42
International production theory	43
Product cycles in international markets	43
Limitations of foreign direct investment	45
Transactions costs in international markets	45
Role of transaction costs	46
International marketing theories	46
Product-specific variables	47
Definitions in international marketing	47
Search for an international marketing paradigm	48
The geobusiness paradigm	49
The interaction paradigm	50
Markets and networks	51
Systems exchange paradigm	52
Framework for understanding the international marketing process	53
Dominance of the firm in the international exchange of assets	56
Foreign market entry mode	56
Role of international marketing	58
Summary	58
Discussion questions	59
References	59
3 Internationalization of the firm: resources and managerial capacity	63
Resources and aspirations	63
Excess capacity in the firm	63
Identifying the firm's competitive advantages	63
Characteristics and aspirations of the firm	65
Goals and objectives of the firm	65
Product range in the firm	66
Location of the firm	68
Size of the firm	69
Management of the firm	70

Managerial aspirations for internationalization	70
Commitment to internationalization	71
Managerial expectations and internationalization	73
Attitude toward company growth	75
Cognitive style of managers	77
Preventing internationalization failure	78
Motivation to internationalize	79
Strategic and opportunistic approaches to internationalization of the firm	79
Strategic approach to international markets	79
International market experience	80
Commitment to internationalization	82
Measuring commitment to international markets	83
Internationalization of the firm: integration and application	84
Summary	85
Discussion questions	87
References	87
4 Strategic options for the firm in international markets	89
Marketing orientation in international competitive environment	89
Required international marketing response	91
Product-market development	91
Segmenting and targeting international markets	93
Technology, product and market decision	95
Strategic corporate response: general considerations	98
Cost cutting and restructuring the firm	99
Company growth and discontinuity	99
Foundation for strategy development	101
Competitive strategies	102
Combined approaches to competition	104
Analysing competitor strategies	106
Investing in manufacturing and marketing	106
Managing costs and prices	108
International competitive strategies	111
International marketing strategies	112
Implications of standardizing international marketing strategies	113
Product-market and business system resource allocation	114
Resource allocation in international markets	116
International marketing strategies for SMEs	118
Process positioning in the business system	119
Application of the product-market business system framework	120
Summary	122
Discussion questions	123
References	124

PART II International marketing environment	127
5 The socio-cultural environment of international marketing	129
Meaning of culture in international marketing	129
Socio-cultural environment	131
Interpreting culture for the international firm	133
Characteristics of culture	135
Elements of culture in international markets	137
Language, communication and values in international marketing	139
Social organization and education	141
Technology and material culture	144
Analysis of culture influence	145
Macro analysis of the cultural environment	146
Micro analysis of the cultural environment	149
Techniques for micro cultural assessment	151
Socio-cultural distance as a barrier to internationalization.	153
Cultural influences on the international firm	156
Norms and behaviour patterns and the international firm	156
Cultural ideology and the international firm	157
Material culture and the international firm	158
Summary	159
Discussion questions	160
References	160
6 Public policy environment of international marketing	162
Political environment of international marketing	162
Importance of political stability	163
Common political risks	164
Identifying political vulnerability	168
Positive political–business interaction	169
Regulating international transfers	170
Regulating transfers of products and services	172
Regulating money transfers	176
Regulating people transfers	177
Regulating technology transfers	178
Political concerns of managers in international firms	179
Source country considerations	180
Host country considerations	180
Restrictive business practices	181
International legal framework	181
Major world legal systems	183
Minimizing international legal problems	185
Legal aspects of marketing claims	186

Use of arbitration agreements	187
Growth and application of European Community law	189
Summary	189
Discussion questions	191
References	191
7 Creating competitive advantage: implementing public policy	192
Marketing challenge of open markets	192
Country and company competitiveness	193
Importance of labour productivity	195
Challenge facing the international firm	198
Industrial and commercial policy environment	199
Nature and formation of industrial and commercial policy	201
Strategies for development: countries and communities	203
Trends in comparative advantage	205
Dynamic comparative advantage	211
Growth and productivity strategies	212
Industrial policy, growth and welfare	215
Classifying country development strategies	216
Future of industrial and commercial policies	218
Industrial and commercial policies in the EU	219
Policies for international competition in the EU	221
Summary	222
Discussion questions	224
References	225
PART III How the firm enters international markets	227
8 Global, regional and emerging markets	229
World output and trade	229
Concept of free trade	231
Developments in industrial markets	232
Trade agreements and market integration	235
General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade	237
Approaches to market integration	240
European Union	240
North American Free Trade Agreement	242
Asia–Pacific Rim	242
New markets in Latin America	243
Central and Eastern European markets	247
Trade in the Middle East and Africa	247
Special position of the developing countries	248

Vicious circle of poverty	250
Relevance of marketing in developing countries	251
Role of marketing in economic development	253
Marketing stages and levels of economic development	254
Summary	257
Discussion questions	257
References	258
9 International markets and customers	259
International market selection process	259
Importance of international market selection	259
Approaches to international market selection	261
Competitive characteristics of the market	261
Mechanics of international market selection	263
Opportunistic selection of international markets	264
Systematic selection of international markets	265
Industry market potential	267
Company sales potential	269
Role of information sources	272
Evolution from opportunistic to systematic market selection	274
Influences on selection of markets	274
Company size and market selection	275
Influence of export sales	276
Corporate goals and market selection	276
Influence of company strategy	277
Value of market information	278
Segmenting international markets	279
Market segmentation: geography and zones of influence	279
Market segmentation: business distance	282
Linking market segmentation to market selection	283
Systematic selection of customers	284
Integrated view of market selection process	285
Summary	288
Discussion questions	289
References	289
10 Analysis of international competitors	291
Meaning of competition	292
Nature of competition among firms	292
Establishing competitive positions of international markets	293
Hierarchy of competition	294
Impact of competition on market and firm	298
Benefits of competition	298
Determinants of competitiveness in international markets	299

Measuring competitiveness in the firm	300
Understanding competitors in international markets	303
Competitor objectives, future goals and assumptions	303
Review of competitor strategies	305
Competitor organization and corporate culture	305
Size, growth and profitability of competitors	306
Competitor capabilities	307
Cost structure and mobility barriers	307
Assessing potential competitors	308
Product-market expansion	308
Market integration	309
Motives associated with unique competences	309
Information on international competitors	309
Strategic control for competition	312
Competing on quality	313
Competing through manufacturing	316
Competing through flexibility	317
Innovating to compete internationally	318
Organizational change for competition	319
Summary	320
Discussion questions	321
References	321
11 Entering international markets	323
International market entry and competition	323
Concept of market entry	323
Generic market strategies for international competition	324
Market strategy and competitive strategy	327
Linking market strategy, complexity and entry	329
Entering international markets – modal choice	330
Business development: new product markets	331
Foreign market entry strategies	334
Determining optimum entry strategies	336
Sequencing of international market entry	340
Sequencing as generic strategy	343
Summary	346
Discussion questions	347
References	347
12 Exporting as strategy for international market entry	349
Determinants of export behaviour	349
Entering foreign markets through exporting	349
Experience and uncertainty effects	351
Acquiring knowledge of export markets	354

Behavioural and firm specific influences	356
Managerial influences on exporting behaviour	357
Strategic influences on exporting	359
Export decision process	360
Preparing for export markets	360
Learning to export	361
Size of firm and exporting activity	363
Export marketing groups	364
Assessing export competitiveness	366
Cost of exporting	366
Pricing in export markets	368
Export competitiveness	372
Summary	373
Discussion questions	374
References	374
13 Competitive alliances to enter international markets	377
Nature of competitive alliances	377
Access to technology and markets	377
Basis for a competitive alliance	378
Marketing partnership agreements	383
Licensing in international markets	384
Nature of international licensing	384
Benefits of licensing	387
Prerequisites of successful licensing	389
The licence package	390
Barriers to international licensing	391
Franchising to enter international markets	391
Nature of franchising	391
Reasons for growth in franchising	394
Advantages of franchising	395
Disadvantages of franchising	396
Legal aspects of franchising	396
Joint ventures to enter international markets	396
Benefits of international joint ventures	399
Access to new resources	399
Joint ventures and host country policies	402
Cost of joint ventures	403
Evaluation of competitive alliances	405
Obtaining value and control in competitive alliances	405
Selecting a partner for a competitive alliance	409
Summary	411
Discussion questions	412
References	413

14 Entering international markets through foreign direct investment	416
Motives for foreign direct investment	416
Nature of foreign direct investment	416
Managerial motives for FDI	417
Growing importance of market motives	422
Determinants of location for FDI	422
Trends in foreign direct investment	424
Role of marketing and differentiated products	425
Cross-foreign direct investment	426
Conditions for success in foreign direct investment	429
International market entry by acquisition	430
Success factors in acquisitions	435
Success and failure in UK and US acquisitions	436
Public policy and cross-border acquisitions	438
Market entry through new ventures and acquisitions: an evaluation	440
Comparison of acquisitions and new ventures	440
Foreign direct investments in the United States	441
Profitability of foreign direct investment	443
Management view of foreign direct investment	444
Summary	444
Discussion questions	445
References	446
PART IV The international marketing programme	449
15 The consumer products firm in international markets	451
Trends in consumer products markets	451
Market fragmentation and consolidation	451
Convergence of international consumer markets	453
Branding in international markets	455
Developing international consumer brands	456
Consumer products in international markets	456
Products or brands	457
Managing consumer brands in international markets	461
Long-term brand management	461
Branding for success	462
Sustaining competitive advantage	463
Implementing international brand strategies	463
Branding the competitive advantage	464
Competing with different marketing programmes	465
Quality standards in brand strategy	467

Umbrella branding in international markets	468
Traps in international marketing	469
Protecting the firm and the brand	471
Counterfeiting and forgeries	471
Brands in the grey market	474
Market value of a brand	475
Summary	479
Discussion questions	480
References	481
16 The industrial products firm in international markets	483
Nature of industrial markets	483
Product development and standards	486
EU Directive on product liability	488
Organization for buying	489
Industrial buying process	489
Commitment of the firm to industrial buying	491
Decision criteria for industrial buying	492
Assessing competitive positions	493
Segmenting industrial product markets	493
Developing market positions	497
Commitment to international markets	500
Pricing industrial products	501
Selling and promoting industrial products	503
Personal selling	503
Promoting industrial products	504
Summary	505
Discussion questions	505
References	505
17 The services firm in international markets	508
Services in international marketing	508
Nature of services	509
Trends in international marketing of services	510
Types of services in international marketing	511
Treatment of services in marketing	514
Classifying services	515
Product service continuum	515
Role of technology in the services firm	520
Productivity in services	521
International marketing of services	524
International marketing potential	524
Scale and cultural effects	524
Managing services marketing	525

Internationalizing the service firm	528
Basis for internationalization in the service firm	529
Market entry modalities for services	531
Coterminality of production and consumption of services	531
Choosing the entry mode	532
Public policy restrictions on international marketing of services	533
Internationalization in selected service industries	534
Advertising services in international markets	534
Financial services in international markets	536
Internationalizing accountancy services	537
Constraints on the growth of the international service firm	538
Summary	539
Discussion questions	540
References	541

PART V Implementing the international marketing programme 543

18 Managing international distribution channels	545
Nature of international channels of distribution	545
Establishing channel relationships	546
Channel management as an interactive process	547
Marketing channel design	548
Needs of channel members	550
Structure and function in channels of distribution	551
Structure of distribution channels	552
Actors in the distribution channel	553
Specialized importer and distributor	554
Manufacturer as importer	555
Retailers and importers	556
Effectiveness of international distribution channels	556
Performance of the marketing channel	558
The distribution audit	559
Integrated international distribution	559
Conflict and control in international channels of distribution	562
Cooperation in the marketing channel	563
Specifying channel tasks	563
Using power in distribution channels	565
Control of distribution channels	566
Leadership in international distribution channels	568
Innovation in international channels of distribution	570
Innovation in marketing channels	570
International direct distribution	571

Summary	572
Discussion questions	574
References	574
19 Selling and negotiating in international markets	576
Marketing exchange through selling and negotiating	576
Nature of marketing exchanges	577
Changing role of the salesforce	578
Convergence of buying and selling	579
Identifying the buying process	580
Identifying the selling process	582
Foundations for marketing relationships	585
Buyer–seller communications	585
Culture and communication	586
Impact of culture on cognitive structure	588
Buyer–seller interaction	590
Relationships in international marketing	592
Selling and negotiating strategies	594
Buyer–seller styles	594
Benefits of marketing relationships	596
Selecting the sales team	598
Summary	601
Discussion questions	603
References	603
20 Managing international marketing operations	605
Effective implementation of the international marketing task	605
Measuring marketing performance	605
Review of international marketing tasks	607
Financing international marketing expansion	609
Meaning of management control	610
Operational control in international markets	610
Sales quotas and controls	612
Current earnings and profits	612
Financial control in international marketing	613
Importance of cash flow in international markets	613
Size of firm and cash flow	616
Implementing performance standards	617
Financial performance criteria	617
Return on international investments	618
Strategic control of international marketing operations	620
Planning and control	621
Meeting and reviewing performance standards	623
Summary	625

Discussion questions	626
References	627
Glossary	628
Company index	635
Name index	637
Subject index	642