CONTENTS

| | | |
|------------------|---|-----------|
| CHAPTER 1 | AN INTRODUCTION | 1 |
| 1.1 | Programming in asset management and planning | 2 |
| 1.2 | A historical overview | 3 |
| 1.3 | Graphs and networks in finance and accounting | 5 |
| 1.4 | Problems of risk and multiple objectives | 7 |
| 1.5 | An overview of the remaining chapters | 9 |
| CHAPTER 2 | LP AND NETWORK FLOW MODELS | 13 |
| 2.1 | The definition of a linear programming problem | 14 |
| 2.2 | The assumptions of LP models | 17 |
| 2.3 | The advantages and disadvantages of LP models | 19 |
| 2.4 | Definitions in network flow models | 22 |
| 2.5 | Flow conservation, chains and cycles | 24 |
| 2.6 | Some simple network models | 26 |
| 2.7 | The advantages and disadvantages of network flow models | 30 |
| 2.8 | A simple cash management problem | 31 |
| 2.9 | Summary | 36 |
| CHAPTER 3 | MULTIPLE OBJECTIVE MODELS | 37 |
| 3.1 | Multiple goals in corporate financial planning | 38 |
| 3.2 | Goal programming models | 40 |
| 3.3 | Multiple objective linear programming models | 45 |
| 3.4 | Ratio objectives | 50 |
| 3.5 | Immunization of bond portfolios | 56 |
| 3.6 | Accounting with multiple objective models | 63 |

| | |
|--|------------|
| 3.7 Interactive multiple objective linear programming and network models | 68 |
| CHAPTER 4 DEGENERACY AND ITS IMPLICATIONS FOR PRICING AND VALUATION | 73 |
| 4.1 Introduction | 74 |
| 4.2 Degeneracy in LP problems | 75 |
| 4.3 Shadow prices in financial statements | 80 |
| 4.4 An example | 83 |
| 4.5 The totally degenerate system | 87 |
| 4.6 Multiple objective models | 89 |
| 4.7 Pricing and valuation with degenerate MOLP models | 99 |
| 4.8 Summary and conclusions | 108 |
| CHAPTER 5 MATHEMATICAL PROGRAMMING MODELS IN MANAGERIAL ACCOUNTING | 109 |
| 5.1 Introduction | 110 |
| 5.2 Multiple objectives and the transfer of information | 111 |
| 5.3 Allocation of overheads in multiple objective models | 122 |
| 5.4 Accounting control with multiple objectives | 133 |
| 5.5 Preference variances in MOLP accounting systems | 137 |
| 5.6 The time framework for control | 144 |
| 5.7 Summary and conclusions | 145 |
| CHAPTER 6 GRAPH THEORY AND FOREIGN EXCHANGE ARBITRAGE PROBLEMS | 147 |
| 6.1 Introduction | 148 |

| | |
|---|------------|
| Contents | vii |
| 6.2 A definition of arbitrage problems | 148 |
| 6.3 An example | 151 |
| 6.4 Graph theoretic representations for arbitrage problems | 155 |
| 6.5 Arbitrage on straight sets | 156 |
| 6.6 Arbitrage on swap rates | 160 |
| 6.7 Interest Arbitrage | 165 |
| 6.8 Shortest path models | 174 |
| 6.9 Summary and conclusion | 183 |
| CHAPTER 7 GROUP STRUCTURES AND CONSOLIDATED ACCOUNTS | 185 |
| 7.1 Introduction | 186 |
| 7.2 Problems of ownership and control | 189 |
| 7.3 Programming models for optimizing group control and ownership | 199 |
| 7.4 Consolidation | 218 |
| 7.5 The effects of control and consolidation on corporate models | 231 |
| 7.6 Summary and conclusions | 234 |
| CHAPTER 8 PROGRAMMING MODELS FOR MULTINATIONAL TAX STRUCTURING | 235 |
| 8.1 A brief introduction to systems of multinational taxation | 236 |
| 8.2 A simplified single source model | 241 |
| 8.3 A dynamic programming formulation for optimal structuring | 247 |
| 8.4 A linear programming formulation for optimal structuring | 260 |
| 8.5 Some examples using the LP model | 268 |

| | | |
|---|---|-----|
| 8.6 | Cash flow problems and the problem of revenues within the network | 276 |
| 8.7 | Planning the capital structure of a new source given an existing corporate structure | 280 |
| 8.8 | Examples of planning the capital structure of a new source | 287 |
| 8.9 | Multiperiod models | 295 |
| 8.10 | Special structures for US regulations | 297 |
| 8.10 | Summary and conclusions | 298 |
| APPENDICES | | |
| APPENDIX A SOME THEORETICAL APECTS OF LINEAR PROGRAMMING | | |
| | | 299 |
| A-1 | Basic representations | 300 |
| A-2 | The interpretation of the final tableau and its use in resource evaluation | 305 |
| A-3 | Duality in LP and network problems | 308 |
| A-4 | Sensitivity analysis in LP | 313 |
| A-5 | Degeneracy in LP problems | 316 |
| APPENDIX B EFFECTS OF RIGHTS ISSUES ON CONSOLIDATED ACCOUNTS | | |
| | | 321 |
