

Stefan Griller,
Dimitri P. Droutsas, Gerda Falkner,
Katrín Forgó, Michael Nentwich

The Treaty of Amsterdam

Facts, Analysis, Prospects

B 61 141

Juristische Gesamtbibliothek
Technische Universität Darmstadt

SpringerWienNewYork

Table of Contents

Preface	V
Summary of the Contents	VII
Table of Contents.....	XI
Abbreviations	XXIII

PART ONE Origins and Negotiations

I. Why Another Treaty Reform?	1
II. The Pre-IGC Reform Debate	3
A. Contributions by EU Institutions	3
B. Further Prominent Proposals.....	7
III. The Starting Point	11
A. The European Council Conclusions.....	11
B. The Reflection Group Report and the Institutions' Reactions	13
C. The National Positions.....	16
D. The Agenda.....	21
IV. The Course of the Negotiations.....	26
V. Outline of this Volume.....	33

PART TWO Structural Issues

I. The Basic Structure of the Amsterdam Treaty.....	35
A. The Treaty Architecture.....	35
B. Simplification of the Treaties?.....	39
1. The Missed Opportunity for Significant Codification	39

2.	The Remains of Simplification	43
3.	The Renumbering of Articles	49
4.	Conclusion	51
II.	The Legal Nature of the Union and the Communities	52
A.	Legal Personality for the European Union?	52
1.	The Starting Point: The Maastricht Treaty	52
2.	The Ambiguity of the Amsterdam Treaty	55
B.	The EU and the EC: Towards a Homogenous Legal Order?	59
C.	New Inputs to the Debate on Statehood and Constitutionality?	65
1.	Introductory Remarks	65
2.	The Union: A Confederation of States	66
a.	The Powers of the EU and the Communities	66
(1.)	General Attributes of a State	66
(2.)	Statal Features of the Union and the Communities	70
(3.)	New Aspects Introduced by the Amsterdam Treaty	75
b.	The Determination of Owned Competences (Kompetenz-Kompetenz)	77
c.	State Territory and State People	79
d.	The Lack of Will to Found a European State	82
3.	The Constitution of the European Union	86
III.	Competence Aspects	88
A.	General Observations	88
B.	Subsidiarity	96
1.	The New Protocol on Subsidiarity and Proportionality	96
2.	Answers to Open Questions?	100
a.	Scope of Application: Areas of Non-Exclusive Competence	100
b.	Effectiveness and Efficiency	104
c.	Procedural Issues	106
d.	Justiciability	108
C.	Environmental Protection	110
1.	The Most Important Changes to Article 95 TEC	111
2.	Selected Topics	113
a.	The Introduction of New National Measures	113
b.	Stricter Conditions for Unilateral National Measures?	114
(1.)	Obstacles to the Functioning of the Internal Market	114
(2.)	The Criteria for New National Measures	116

- c. The Choice of Correct Legal Basis for Environmental Measures 119
 - 3. Résumé 124
 - D. External Relations 125
 - 1. Extension of the Common Commercial Policy 125
 - 2. Further Important Amendments 131
- IV. Fundamental Rights and Freedoms 133
 - A. Modifications to the Foundation of Fundamental Rights Protection in the EU and the EC 133
 - 1. The Status Quo Ante 133
 - 2. Modifications by the Amsterdam Treaty 135
 - 3. Unresolved Issues 136
 - a. No Catalogue of Fundamental Rights 136
 - b. The Impact of the Protocols to the ECHR 138
 - c. Economic, Social and Cultural Rights 140
 - B. Extension of the Scope of Union and Community Law? 142
 - 1. Introduction 142
 - 2. The Scope of Community Law as a Traditional Restriction on Judicial Review 143
 - a. Original Judicial Self Restraint 143
 - b. Review of Member State Derogations from Community Freedoms 145
 - c. Citizenship and the Scope of Fundamental Rights Protection 147
 - 3. Extension of Legal Scrutiny by the Amsterdam Treaty 150
 - a. Comprehensive Scope of the Common Principles 150
 - b. The Final Step to a Fully Fledged Fundamental Rights Review System? 151
 - C. Amendments and Insertion of Rights under the TEC 153
 - 1. Actions to Combat Discrimination 153
 - a. Introduction 153
 - b. A New Community Competence? 153
 - c. Parallel Competences Within the First and the Third Pillar? 157
 - d. The Relation to Existing Prohibitions on Discrimination 158
 - e. No Direct Applicability 160
 - f. Positive Discrimination as a Measure to Combat Discrimination 161
 - 2. Right of Access to Documents 167
 - 3. Data Protection 167
 - 4. Right of Asylum 170

5. Declarations	171
D. Conclusions.....	171
V. Common Principles of EU Membership and Their Enforcement.....	173
A. Suspension of Rights of Member States	173
1. A Two-Step Mechanism	173
2. Procedures for and Consequences of the Suspension of Rights	175
a. Determination of a Breach of Common Principles	175
b. Suspension of Rights Within the Union	176
c. Variation and Revocation of Suspension Measures Within the Union.....	180
d. Suspension of Rights Within the Communities	181
e. Suspension of Rights as a Prohibition on Expulsion?.....	183
3. Standards of The Common Principles	184
a. Preliminary Remarks	184
b. The Common Principles	186
(1.) Liberty.....	186
(2.) Democracy.....	186
(3.) Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms	188
(4.) Rule of Law.....	188
c. A Serious and Persistent Breach.....	189
d. Breach of one Principle is Enough	191
4. Judicial Control.....	192
B. Common Principles as an Accession Requirement.....	192

PART THREE

Differentiated Integration

I. Differentiated Integration before and after Amsterdam.....	199
II. "Closer Cooperation" in the Treaty of Amsterdam.....	205
A. The Conditions for the Establishment of Closer Cooperation.....	206
1. The Overall Character of Closer Cooperation	207
2. The Lack of Operational Wording.....	209
3. The Relevance of the Schengen Agreement	211
4. Aspects Relating to the Conditions of Competition, Non-discrimination and the Single Market.....	213

a.	The Overall Legal Concept of Closer Cooperation.....	214
b.	The Limits of Closer Cooperation.....	215
c.	Possible Guidelines for Interpretation.....	216
d.	Closer Cooperation in the Environmental Field.....	217
(1.)	Considerations relating to the potential subject of a closer cooperation.....	217
(2.)	Certain aspects relating to the criteria applicable to closer cooperation.....	218
e.	Why Eight and Fifteen are not the same.....	221
B.	The Authorisation.....	222
C.	The “Enlargement” of Closer Cooperation: The “Accession” of “New Member States”.....	225
D.	Institutional Aspects.....	227
1.	Decision-Making by Qualified Majority.....	227
2.	The Presidency.....	229
3.	Participation within the other Institutions.....	231
E.	Financial Provisions.....	232
F.	The Admissibility of Cooperations outside of the Union’s Legal Order.....	233
G.	The ECJ’s Jurisdiction.....	235
H.	The Temporal Character of the Criteria applicable to Closer Cooperation within the Institutional Framework.....	238
1.	The Criterion to use Closer Cooperation only as a Last Resort.....	238
2.	The Majority Requirement in the Light of Future Enlargements and the Potential Wish to withdraw from a Closer Cooperation.....	239
I.	The Permissibility of Building a Pyramid.....	241
III.	The Exemption Clauses within the Framework of Title IV TEC.....	242
A.	Institutional Aspects.....	243
B.	How to Join the “Advanced” Group.....	246
C.	How to Give Up the Derogation in Full.....	249
D.	Measures relating to the Free Movement of Persons.....	251
E.	Financial Aspects.....	253
F.	Judicial Aspects.....	254
IV.	Concepts of Differentiated Integration within the Second Pillar.....	255
A.	Agreements with Third Parties Necessary for the Implementation of Title V TEU.....	255
B.	Qualified Abstentions.....	257
C.	Exemption Clause for Denmark with Regard to Measures with Defence Implications.....	258

V.	Differentiated Integration within the Third Pillar	259
A.	Conventions within the Third Pillar.....	259
1.	The Flexible Arrangement Relating to Conventions within the Third Pillar.....	259
2.	Aspects Relating to the ECJ's Jurisdiction	261
B.	Preliminary Rulings within the Scope of Title VI TEU.....	263
C.	International Agreements.....	269
VI.	“Overlapping issues”: The Schengen Agreement	271
VII.	External Competences in Areas of Differentiated Integration	272
A.	External Competences and “Closer Cooperation”	273
1.	The First Pillar	273
2.	The Third Pillar	273
B.	Other Relevant Forms of Flexibility	274
C.	Aspects Relating to Liability	274
VIII.	Conclusions.....	277

PART FOUR

Institutional and Procedural Issues

I.	Introduction.....	281
II.	Institutional Reform	282
A.	The European Parliament.....	282
1.	The Number of MEPs and ‘Appropriate Representa- tion’.....	282
a.	Legal Value	284
b.	What Is ‘Appropriate’?.....	285
2.	Uniform Electoral Procedure	290
3.	The Statute of the MEPs	291
B.	The Commission.....	293
1.	The New Investiture Procedure	293
2.	The Size of the College.....	297
3.	The Internal Balance of Power	299
a.	The President's Role.....	299
b.	The Internal Reform	301
C.	The Council of Ministers	302
D.	The Committee of the Regions	302
E.	The Economic and Social Committee.....	304
F.	The European Courts	305
G.	The Court of Auditors.....	308

H.	The Seats of the Institutions.....	311
I.	Further Institutional Reforms.....	314
III.	Procedural Reform.....	314
A.	The EP as a Co-legislator.....	314
1.	Reform of Codecision.....	315
2.	New EP Competencies.....	322
a.	The New Distribution of Competencies	328
b.	Assessment.....	332
B.	Majority Voting in the Council.....	335
1.	Less Unanimity.....	336
2.	Constructive Abstention, Extra-Qualified Majority and the 'Amsterdam Compromise'	339
3.	The Destiny of the 'Ioannina Compromise' and the Reweighting of Votes	343
C.	Transparency.....	345
1.	The New Rules	347
a.	The Amsterdam Treaty.....	347
b.	The Council's New Rules of Procedure	350
2.	Assessment	353
D.	Involvement of the National Parliaments.....	356
E.	Comitology and Hierarchy of Legislative Acts	359
F.	The Quasi-Constitutional Role of the European Council and the Council.....	362
IV.	Conclusions.....	363
A.	The Result of the IGC and its Official Mandate in the Institutional and Procedural field.....	364
B.	The Institutional Balance	365
C.	The State of Democracy in the post-Amsterdam EU.....	369

PART FIVE

Common Foreign and Security Policy

I.	Introductory Remarks	373
II.	The New Provisions.....	375
A.	The New Objectives of the CFSP	375
B.	The Instruments of the CFSP.....	378
1.	The Common Strategy.....	379
2.	Joint Actions and Common Positions	385
3.	Agreements.....	387

C.	The Institutional Framework of the CFSP	392
1.	The High Representative for the CFSP	392
2.	The Policy Planning and Early Warning Unit (PPEWU)	394
3.	Further Modifications of the Institutional Setup	399
a.	The European Council	399
b.	The Council	400
c.	The Presidency of the Council	401
d.	The European Commission	402
e.	The European Parliament	404
f.	Interaction between Council and Commission.	405
g.	Coordination of Member State Actions in International Organisations	407
D.	The Decision-Making Procedure within CFSP	408
1.	Introduction	408
2.	The Constructive Abstention	410
3.	Qualified Majority Voting	412
E.	The Financing of CFSP	414
1.	The Situation After Maastricht	414
2.	The Reform by the Amsterdam Treaty	416
III.	Security and Defence	417
A.	Introductory Remarks	417
B.	The Common Defence Policy	419
C.	The Relations between the EU and the WEU	422
D.	Recent Developments in Europe's Defence and Security	427
E.	Concluding Remarks	429
IV.	Excursus: Neutrality and CFSP	431
A.	Duties of Neutral States under International Law	431
B.	Neutrality and EU Membership before Amsterdam	433
C.	Reform under the Amsterdam Treaty	437
V.	Conclusions	440

PART SIX

The Area of Freedom, Security and Justice

I.	Introduction	443
II.	The New Title IV TEC Relating to the Movement of Persons	445
A.	Scope of Application	446
1.	Measures Provided for in Title IV TEC	446

2.	The Communitarisation of Third Pillar Issues	450
a.	The Substance of Article 61 lit. e TEC	451
b.	From Maastricht to Amsterdam	458
c.	The Relationship between Former Title VI TEUold and Title IV TEC	460
d.	The Consequences of "Duplicating" Title VI TEU in Title IV TEC	463
3.	The Position of Denmark, Ireland and the United Kingdom	465
B.	Procedural Requirements	468
C.	The Architecture of Title IV TEC	469
1.	Procedural Aspects	471
a.	Qualifying Aspects Relating to the Communi- tarisation of Third Pillar Issues	471
b.	The Council's Obligation to Act	472
c.	Procedural Improvements Introduced by the Treaty of Amsterdam?	473
2.	The Issue of Parliamentary Control	475
D.	The Role of the ECJ within the Scope of Title IV TEC	476
E.	The Legal Basis for Measures Relating to Title IV TEC	479
III.	The New Third Pillar of the TEU	481
A.	The Structure of Title VI TEU	482
B.	The Means Provided for in Title VI TEU	485
1.	Police Cooperation	485
2.	Judicial Cooperation in Criminal Matters	485
3.	Operations of Competent Authorities in Other Member States	486
C.	The Legal Instruments Provided for in Title VI TEU	486
D.	Procedures Provided for in Title VI TEU	488
E.	Parliamentary and Judicial Control	490
1.	Parliamentary Control	490
2.	Judicial Control	491
IV.	The Integration of the Schengen-Acquis	496
A.	The Schengen Agreements	496
B.	The Definition of the Schengen Acquis	498
1.	The Concept of the Council Decision	498
2.	Publication and Entering into Force	501
C.	The Determination of the Legal Basis of the Schengen Acquis	504
1.	The Contents of the Council Decision	504
2.	Controversial Issues	506
a.	Horizontal Provisions	506
b.	Territorial Scope of Application	508
c.	Legal Nature and Form of the Acquis	509

D. The Integration of the Nordic Countries	512
E. Institutional and Procedural Issues	514
1. Schengen: A Special Case of Closer Cooperation	514
2. The Substitution of the Schengen Executive Committee	519
F. Legal Scrutiny.....	521
V. Conclusions.....	523

PART SEVEN

Social Affairs

I. Employment.....	527
A. The Political Background to the Respective Treaty Changes.....	527
B. Employment as a General Goal of the Treaties	531
C. The Employment Title	532
1. The Coordination Process envisaged in the Employ- ment Chapter.....	535
a. The National Versus the EC Level	537
b. EC Coordination in the Employment versus the Economic Fields	538
2. The New Competence for Incentive Measures	542
3. The New Employment Committee	544
D. Other Employment-related Competences in the TEC.....	545
II. The Reform of the Social Policy Provisions	548
A. The Background: The End of the UK Opt-Out.....	548
B. The new social provisions in the EC Treaty	550
1. Additional Competences for the EC15	552
2. Procedural innovation	554
C. Equality Between Women and Men: Beyond Rome and Kalanke	555
D. The New Competences for Various 'Measures'	558
III. The Amsterdam Treaty: Towards a Social Union?	559

PART EIGHT
Conclusions

Conclusions561

Jurisprudence, Legal and other Sources, Bibliography.....571

List of Tables and Figures619

Index621

Annex: Tables of equivalences referred to in Article 12 of the Treaty of Amsterdam.....635

List of Authors.....641