

The London Clearing Banks

Evidence by the Committee of London Clearing Bankers to the Committee to Review the Functioning of Financial Institutions

November 1977

TECHNISCHE HOCHSCHULE DARMSTADT
Fachbereich 1
Gesamtbibliothek
Betriebswirtschaftslehre
Inventar-Nr. :	17.970
Abstell-Nr. :	A 05/315
Sachgebiete :	0.3.1

Preface	Page 11
Chapter 1
Introduction	13
The clearing banks' changing role; Gaps and defects; Suggestions; The future.
Chapter 2
Structure and organisation	20
The clearing bank mergers; Investments in other deposit banks; International banking; Merchant banking and term lending; Instalment credit and related services; Other services; Group organisation; Organisation of domestic banking; Management techniques.
Chapter 3
Money transmission	34
Introduction; Cash distribution services; Cheques and credit transfers; Electronic methods of payment; Other bank methods of making payments; Charges for money transmission services; Future developments in the banks' money transmission services.
Chapter 4
Deposits	45
Introduction; Current accounts; Other retail deposits; Sterling wholesale deposits; Maturity structure; Sources of deposits; Market shares.
Chapter 5
Liquidity and capital adequacy	59
Introduction; Liquidity; Capital adequacy; Supervision; The lifeboat operation.
Chapter 6
Monetary and credit controls	67
Introduction; The pre-1971 system; Competition and Credit Control; Developments since 1971; Selective credit controls.
Chapter 7
Lending: the banks' role and record	75
Introduction; Industry's demand for bank finance; Analysis of lending; The clearing banks' lending record; The effectiveness of the financial system.

Chapter 8
Lending: facilities, terms and conditions	Page 98
Overdrafts and loan accounts; Contractual term lending; Instalment credit, leasing and factoring; Personal lending; Maturity and cost of lending; Lending criteria; Security arrangements; Lending problems and failures.
Chapter 9
Lending: smaller businesses	114
Introduction; Long-term debt and equity finance; Categories of borrower; Conclusion.
Chapter 10
International banking: the changing environment	121
Introduction; The changing economic environment; The eurocurrency market; London as an international banking centre.
Chapter 11
International banking: UK-based activities	129
The finance of international trade; Special schemes for export credit; Eurocurrency business; Foreign exchange; Supporting services.
Chapter 12
International banking: overseas activities	141
Introduction; Banking 'clubs' and consortia; Extending direct representation overseas; Banking in developing countries.
Chapter 13
Other services	149
Executor and trustee services; Investment services; Insurance and tax advisory services; Corporate advisory services; Share registration and new issues; Other computer-based services; Guarantees and performance bonds.
Chapter 14
Staff, premises and equipment	155
Introduction; Staff numbers and functions; Recruitment and training; Pay, conditions and industrial relations; Branches; Equipment.
Chapter 15
Profits	165
The need for profits; Factors affecting clearing bank profits; The effects of inflation; The clearing banks' profit record; Conclusions.
Chapter 16
The Committee of London Clearing Bankers	175
Chapter 17
The banks and government	179
Consultative relationships; Operational matters; The Bank of England as the bankers' bank.

Chapter 18
The banks and other financial institutions	Page 186
Changing patterns of competition; The need for fair competition; The money markets.
Chapter 19
Banking systems abroad	194
Introduction; Principal features of the systems; The role and functioning of commercial banks; Differences and similarities: the changing pattern.
Chapter 20
Public ownership	206
Introduction; Historical survey; Possible methods of public ownership; The main arguments; The banks' economic importance; The banks' market share; Competition and choice; Bank profits; Bank supervision and regulation; The banks' lending record; Standards of customer service; Extent of public ownership abroad; Concentration of banking power; Banking structures and economic performance.
Appendix A
Chronology of events affecting banking 1957-1977	221
Appendix B
Special export finance schemes	232
Export credit facilities; Export support services.
Appendix C
North Sea oil and gas	234
Appendix D
The property market	239
Introduction; The property market since the war; The financial structure of property companies; Bank lending to property companies; Other factors contributing to the collapse of the property market.
Appendix E
London as an international banking centre	246
Conclusions and recommendations from the evidence to the Committee to Review the Functioning of Financial Institutions by the British Bankers' Association.
Index	251